ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

Mr. Lecky-Browne-Lecky and Mr. Raymond Browne-Lecky wish to return thanks to all their kind friends who sent telegrams, letters and cards, etc., in their recent sad bereavement. As it would be impossible to answer each individually, Mr. Lecky-Browne-Lecky and Mr. Raymond Browne-Lecky hope they will kindly accept this acknowledgment.

SANDFORD—Captain and the Misses Stella and Erica Sandford wish to express their sincere gratitude to the many friends whose thoughtful sympathy they so deeply appreciate in this time of sorrow. Their beloved mother's wholly unexpected death, on the 19th inst., occurred after a few days' illness and an operation for appendicitis, whilst visiting her son in Twickenham.

LEGAL NOTICES.

NOTICE TO CLAIMANTS.

DON MARIANO ESCALADA HERNANDEZ, Judge of First Instance of the Center of this city of Bilbao.

By the present edict it is made known: That Maurice Michell, a native of Manor (Ireland), whereat he was born on the 2nd day of April, 1872, son of Maurice and Alice, both deceased, married to Alice Kimber, also deceased, died intestate and without issue.

And it is also made known: That in this Court of Justice and Secretariship of Mr Enciso are now pending proceedings for the declaration of heirs in intestacy in consequence of the death of the said Maurice Michell, and upon application made by the Solicitor of these Courts, Don Cesareo M. Tans, as representing the brothers and sisters of the whole blood of the de cujus, and called Ernest Pryce, of 60 years of age; Mabel, of 57 years of age; Charlotte, of 55 years of age; Vincent, of 53 years of age; and Edward Maxwell, of 48 years of age, who are claiming for the declaration of heirs upon the demise of the said Maurice, who resided in Spain during many years and who, although had retained his English nationality, had the status of a foreigner domiciled in this country. And all those who may believe to have a right to succeed to the Deceased's preferent to that of the said brothers and sisters are hereby called to enter an appearance in this Court, situate at Maria Munoz street, Number 1, Second Floor so to claim within the period of time of Ninety Days, on account of the distance from the native place of the said Deceased.

Dated at Bilbao the 20th June, 1922.

A MATTER OF COMMON SENSE

There are some people who have a prejudice against taking medicine and yet it is only a matter of common sense to make use of the resources of Nature and Science when your health is not satisfactory. In the choice of a medicine, too, it is common sense to take one that has already abundantly proved to be reliable and efficacious, that has established a world-wide reputation as a safe remedy. It is just plain common sense to take advantage of the experience of other people and to assume that the medicine which has brought relief and good health to those who have suffered as you do will in all probability benefit you also. Therefore, if your health is not satisfactory, if you suffer from torpid liver, disordered stomach or inactive bowels it will be just plain common sense if you make use of the World's Family Remedy. Buy a box of Beecham's Pills to-day and take a dose whenever you feel out of sorts.

LAWN TENNIS.

CO. DUBLIN CHAMPIONSHIPS.

Play was continued yesterday at Carrickmines under favourable conditions, and a big day's programme was got through. If no very outstanding performances were achieved, there was plenty of interesting play in the process of weeding out the weaker competitors. G. S. B. Mack showed himself in good form in the Open Singles, defeating R. Tottenham at 7-5, 6-2. In the second round of the same competition L. A. Meldon and H. M. Read had easy wins against E. Guinness and H. Wilson, respectively. In the Ladies' Open Singles Miss Ryan played a couple of love sets with Miss E. Hornidge. Mrs. Bianconi had an easy win against Mrs. Lyle, but in the second round Mrs. West took Mrs. Markes to the third set before the latter could claim victory. Miss H. Wallis and Mrs. Tomlinson had a stiff encounter with Mrs. Blair White and Miss H. O'Reilly in the Ladies' Open Doubles, the sets running very evenly, but the first-named pair securing the match at 6-4, 4-6, 6-4. In the Men's Open Doubles W. G. Ireland, with A. P. Barry, easily came through their match with S. R. Boyd and T. Murphy, and L. A. Meldon and P. H. Stokes disposed of G. S. B. Mack and H. E. Murray at 6-4 6-2. This brings the two strongest pairs in the event up against one another in the next round, and it seems pretty safe to say that the decision then arrived at will settle the ultimate holding of the title. The handicaps were worked along well, and afforded many capital matches. Details:—

Men's Singles Championship—1st round—F. K. Patterson beat W. G. Marshall, 6-2, 6-2; G. S. B. Mack beat R. Tottenham, 7-5, 6-2; C. S. Wallis beat P. Gillespie, 7-5, 1-6, 7-5; H. Wilson beat E. Wilson, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2.

2nd round—M. Toppin beat T. S. Reeves, 6-1, 4-6, 6-3; C. J. O'Reilly beat R. A. Thorold, 6-2, 6-2; H. M. Read beat H. Wilson, 6-1, 6-3; L. A. Meldon beat E. Guinness, 6-0, 6-1.

Ladies' Singles Championship—1st round—Mrs. Bianconi beat Mrs. Lyle, 6-1, 6-0.

2nd round—Mrs. Markes beat Mrs. West, 7-5, 3-6, 6-4; Miss Ryan beat Miss E. Hornidge, 6-0, 6-0.

Men's Doubles Championship—1st round—W. G. Ireland and A. P. Barry beat S. R. Boyd and T. Murphy, 6-2, 6-2; L. A. Meldon and P. H. Stokes beat G. S. B. Mack and H. E. Murray, 6-4, 6-2; C. Ingham and L. Hill beat G. Fletcher and T. G. Wallis, 10-8, 6-4; C. J. O'Reilly and F. C. Martin beat R. T. Thorold and L. Pope, 6-1, 6-1; Colonel Davidge and Captain Pigot beat A. and C. SWEDEN DEFEATS SCOTLAND.

As the members of the East of Scotland Team, playing in the Ladies' County Championship matches at Edgbaston, were still absent from Craiglockhart yesterday, the championships were again subsidiary to the International between Scotland and Sweden, which the two Swedish players won in fine style. On Monday P. D. Spence defeated C. E. von Braun, and A. Blair beat M. Wallenburg. Yesterday the placings were altered, and, after two splendid matches, the two Swedes reversed the result of the previous day. Accustomed to the conditions, the Swedes showed to better advantage. In the first match Wallenburg's backhand play frequently had Spence puzzled, and he took the third and fourth sets with ease. There was a distinct contrast in style in the second match, the Swede being a lightly-built man and very active, while his opponent was slower and very cautious. Blair was unsteady, and the Swede, maintaining a good level, won pretty easily. Results:—

M. Wallenburg (Sweden) beat P. D. Spence (Scotland)—6-3, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3; C. E. von Braun (Sweden) beat A. Blair (Scotland)—3-6, 6-4, 6-4, 6-2.

The match was level when the Doubles was entered on. Blair was partnered by D. L. Craig, the pair holding the Doubles Championship of Scotland. The Swedes were much quicker than their opponents, and placed to advantage, while their net-work was much more decisive. The Scots on several occasions could do nothing with the service of the Swedes; and, after a match which the visitors won all the way, Von Braun and Wallenburg beat Blair and Craig—7-5, 6-4, 6-2. Sweden thus won by three matches to two.

SCHOOLS' CHAMPIONSHIP.

In the final of the Schools' Lawn Tennis Championship, played at Mount Temple on Saturday, St. Stephen's Green defeated St. Columba's College by six matches to love. Details:—

Singles.—G. W. Murray beat M. Veagh—7-5, 6-2; J. E. Cleary beat D. Boyle—8-6, 4-6, 6-3; E. Fannin beat Clifford—7-8, 11-13, 6-4; E. Kennedy beat D. O'Sullivan—6-4, 6-2.

Doubles—G. W. Murray and J. E. Cleary beat M. Veagh and D. O'Sullivan—6-3, 7-5; E. Fannin and G. Kennedy beat D. Boyle and Clifford—7-5, 6-0.

GOODWOOD.

KING AND QUEEN PRESENT.

TETRAMETER WINS STEWARDS' CUP.

Goodwood, under Royal patronage, with the Queen paying her first visit to Goodwood House as the Duke of Richmond's guest, opened most auspiciously. The weather was a little doubtful at first, and a few drops of rain fell while the Ham Stakes was being run. It cleared almost immediately, and the afternoon was beautiful.

Interest, of course, centred in the Stewards' Cup, always one of the most popular races in the calendar, and the open character of the event can be imagined when it is said that 10 to 1 was offered on the field right up to the fall of the flag. Tetrameter, the winner, was always a public fancy, although the stable was not very confident of success, as the horse had been lame not so long since, and, curiously enough, The Night Patrol, who finished second, had been on the easy list owing to the effects of running at Ascot. It was noticed by coincidence seekers that the first three horses in the Cup were numbered, respectively, 22, 23, and 24; also that three horses with the number 13 won races. Lady Juror and Weathervane had no luck in the big event, both starting slowly; but, even so, it seemed as though the King's colt, with a clear course from the distance, would have gained a place. Still, nothing had any chance with Tetrameter, who was well placed throughout, and won very easily.

In the way of gossip it was reported that the proposal to send Sceptre to the National Stud is not likely to materialise, for the establishment, it is pointed out, is run on business lines, which seems to veto the presence of a worn-out mare, no matter how distinguished she may be.

The success which has attended the Chattis Hill stable presided over by Persse has been extraordinary this season, and it did not stop at the big race, for Mardina cleverly defeated two better favourites for the Ham Stakes in Paola and Garpal. The former is a great, powerful daughter of The Tetrarch, belonging to the Aga Khan, but, although she carried the stable confidence yesterday, it was evident that she requires more experience of racing before she will show her true capacity on a racecourse.

One seldom sees so many horses concerned in the finish of a race as was the case with the Charlton Plate, fully half a dozen animals being within heads of each other as they passed the judge. The verdict was a dead heat and a short head, and behind the three placed Trumpeter, Mayfair, and Dunk's Green were so closely clustered together that it was impossible to separate them—truly a feather in the cap of Mr. Dawkins.

The Richmond Stakes, although confined to two runners, was most interesting, Bombay Duck and Trajanus changing places in the race almost as often as they did in the betting, first one and then the other being favourite. The filly ran her race out the more stoutly, and was a clear winner at the finish, but the issue was in the balance until well inside the distance.

Of course, Tamar had no difficulty in disposing of Stupidity and Fordingbridge, and so Lord Astor's colt at last loses his maiden certificate; but he and Captain Cuttle will not meet this week, although the Derby winner is on the spot, and went capitally at exercise before racing yesterday morning.

Black Gown, who declined his engagement in the Stewards' Cup, is to oppose Golden Corn in the King George Stakes to-day, which should make the race specially interesting.

(Winner trained by Persse.)

Betting—10 to 1 each TETRAMETER, Morning Light and Weathervane, 100 to 8 Pharmacie, 100 to 7 each Lady Juror, Tete-a-Tete and His Excellency, 100 to 6 Service Kit, 20 to 1 each Proconsul, Hamlet, and Blackland, 25 to 1 each Scamp, Strathleven, Little Boy, Tagrag and Stingo, 40 to 1 Lembach, 50 to 1 any other. Place betting in proportion.

Aclare, Stingo, Flying Ida, Volunteer and Little Boy began slowly. Tagrag set a good pace to Tetrameter, Canterbury, Wild Mint, Strathleven, Morning Light, Pharmacie and Orby's Pride. At half-way Tetrameter took command, pursued by Morning Light, The Night Patrol and Weathervane, the last-named being slightly hindered and trying to get through, and Tetrameter won easily by four lengths; a head separated second and third. Weathervane close up was fourth, His Excellency fifth, Strathleven sixth, Golden Arch seventh, Orby's Pride eighth, and Scamp last. Time—1 min. 13 2-5 sec.

Draw for positions from starting post:—Tagrag No. 1 (stand side), Tete-a-Tete, Stingo, Floey, Proconsul, Service Kit, Pharmacie, Flying Ida, Lembach, Scamp, The Night Patrol, Bouleverse, Tetrameter, Strathleven, Morning Light, Lady Juror, Cruiser Arc, Phusla, Aclare, King Sol, His Excellency, Blackland, Weathervane, Canterbury, Orby's Pride, Golden Arch, Hamlet, Little Boy, Wild Mint, and Volunteer No. 30, the extreme right hand position.

Betting—8 to 1 on TAMAR, 100 to 6 agst. any other.

Won by six lengths; a bad third.

TO-DAY'S SELECTIONS.

It was distinctly a red letter day for Goodwood yesterday, for not only did the weather turn out gloriously fine after promising to be stormy, but the light soon became brilliant, and the attendance was an enormous one. This is not to be wondered at, for the King and Queen were present.

The meeting will be continued to-day, when the programme will again consist of seven events. For these selections are as under:—

Sussex Stakes—Captain Cuttle.
Selling Sweepstakes—Beauchief.
Goodwood Plate—Air Balloon.
Findon Stakes—Boscombe.
King George Stakes—Black Gown.
Singleton Handicap—Joss House.
Lavant Stakes—Scyphius.

1.30—THE SUSSEX STAKES, £25 each, with £500 added. For three-year-olds. Second £200, third £100. New mile.

LEINSTER TOUR.

UNITED SERVICES DEFEATED.

At Plymouth yesterday Leinster continued their innings in perfect weather. They started badly, losing two wickets cheaply. When Guise-Browne joined Lambert a good last wicket stand was made, the pair adding 61 runs before Guise-Browne was out to a smart catch at point. Lambert hit 14 boundaries, and was undefeated with 124, after batting for two hours and a half. Woodward (3 for 25) and Graham (3 for 93) were the most successful bowlers. United Services were all out in two hours for 119. Heaslip had 4 wickets for 46 and Welsby 3 for 11. Leinster won by eight wickets. Score:—

PHŒNIX V. 2ND WORCESTER REGIMENT.

Playing the 2nd Worcester Regiment yesterday in the Park, Phœnix gained an easy victory by 133 runs, with four wickets to spare. The military, who batted first, did poorly before the bowling of Allen, Kidd, and Anderson, and in a little over an hour were dismissed for 93. Sheppard, who made top score, batted well for 28, while Colonel Davidge had a merry innings for 23. Anderson, who came on to bowl towards the end, captured 3 wickets for 5 runs; Allen got 4 for 31, while Kidd had 2 for 12 runs. Phœnix started badly, losing two wickets for 12 runs. Matters improved, however, and the military total was passed with six wickets in hand, while the score had reached 226 for six wickets before play ceased. Kidd gave a very fine display. Occupying the wickets just an hour and a half, he was not out for 94. He scored on every side of the wicket, hit 13 boundaries, and gave but one chance, a difficult one, when over 50. Messervy also batted freely for 44, and, in partnership with Kidd, put on 92 without being separated. Score:—

COUNTY CHAMPIONSHIP.

KENT V. SURREY.

KENT GAIN EASY VICTORY.

So far had Kent, travelled at Blackheath on Monday on the road to victory that, in the absence of something phenomenal, their success yesterday was assured. Nothing sensational occurring, Kent won, after an hour and 40 minutes cricket, by 10 wickets. Score:—

NOTTS V. YORKSHIRE.

There was an interesting finish to John Gunn's benefit match at Trent Bridge yesterday. Yorks, after being 35 behind on the first innings, gained a meritorious victory by five wickets, and thus materially enhanced their championship prospects. A heavy storm in the early hours of the morning delayed the resumption of play 30 minutes, and drying under the influence of powerful sunshine, the pitch was rendered difficult. The visitors' one outstanding wicket was captured for an additional 2 runs, Richmond, going on overnight at 164, taking five of the last six wickets in 11 overs for 29. Notts commenced their second innings disastrously, and never really recovered, despite a plucky sixth wicket stand by Whysall and Flint, which realised 33, and were all dismissed in two hours and twenty-five minutes for 74. Allowing that the condition of the pitch was especially suited to the Yorks bowlers, it must be admitted that the home county were guilty of some irresolute batting, several of them being out to poor strokes. Whysall, missed when six, batted in stubborn fashion for two hours and ten minutes, and was sixth out, whilst Flint, the only member of the side to show any enterprise, played soundly for 55 minutes. After lunch the last seven wickets fell for 44, Kilner proving irresistible, and securing five in 18 overs for 12. Requiring 110 to win, Yorkshire accomplished their task in an hour and three-quarters for the loss of half their wickets. Score:—

GOLF.

PROFESSIONALS AT THE GRANGE.

The July competition for Sir Stanley Cochrane's prizes, which was played yesterday over 36 holes at the Grange, Rathfarnham, yielded some poor scoring. Last season Holley won the event here with 150, M'Dermott being second a stroke worse, but yesterday's leading score of 154, returned by Fred Smyth, was no fewer than five strokes better than the second handed in by M. O'Neill.

The competitors found approaching more difficult than they usually do, and although the greens looked most inviting the putting generally was anything but sound. The first hole was productive of more than one weird score. Getting into the trees, a competitor took eight to hole out, while another had two sevens at the same hole. Fives and sixes here were not unusual; but, perhaps, no greater disaster attended any of the players than that which overtook M. O'Neill at the second hole. He had a 6 marked against him there on the earlier round, but following a good tee shot the last time he found the grass bunker guarding the green, and beat the ball four times into the face of it before he got clear to hole out in 8.

This was rather bad luck, for on starting the second round he was only a stroke worse than Smyth, whose 37 and 39 represented steady golf. The concluding round cost O'Neill 82, and Smyth, being round in 78, was an easy winner. The Dollymount man, who certainly did not win out of his turn, was very steady all day, and if he did sacrifice length to direction from the tee it paid him to do so. In fact, straightness from the tee is essential for accurate approaching at the Grange, as a number of the competitors yesterday found to their cost. On the whole, the golf was patchy, and there were some remarkable finishes, Monaghan, for instance, when he seemed likely to get into the prize list, taking sevens for the last two holes. The aggregates were:—

FRENCH LADIES' CHAMPIONSHIP.

The second and third rounds of the French Ladies' Championship were decided at Dieppe yesterday. Mdlle. de Bellet, champion of 1913, was surprisingly beaten by Mrs. Fletcher. Miss Bastin, after a gruelling match in the second round with Miss Irene Doxford, received a walk-over from Miss Rosamund Sherwood in the third round. Results:—

Mrs. Fletcher (Wembley) beat Mdlle. de Bellet (La Boulie), 1 up; Mdlle Balezeaux (Chantilly) beat Mrs. Norman Craig (Porters Park), 5 and 3; Mrs. Gavin (Huntercombe) beat Miss Macfarlane (Barnehurst), 4 and 2; Miss Lobbett (Sandy Lodge) beat Miss Taylor (Dieppe), 9 and 7; Mrs. Simpson (Leicester) beat Miss Kosenko (America), 1 up; Mdlle Gaveaux (St. Cloud) beat Miss Fairbanks (Dieppe), at 20th; Miss Goutlay (Camberley) beat Mdlle. Waddell (Chantilly), 3 and 1; Miss Gladys Bastin (Crowborough) walked over, Miss Sherwood (America) scratched.

SCOTTISH AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP.

The first Amateur Championship meeting of the Scottish Golf Union attracted the very large entry of 165 players, although several notable Scottish amateurs were absentees J. L. Jenkins, a former amateur champion, and John Cavan, as well as W. Torrance and W. Mackenzie, were amongst these. The first round was carried through without surprises on the old course, St. Andrews, yesterday. Notable successes were achieved by J. Little, a former South of Ireland champion, and G. Manford.

WICKLOW.—The competition for prize presented by the President (Mr. William O'Shaughnessy) drew a large entry, as usual, on Saturday last. Mixed foursome, 18 holes v. bogey. Winners—Mrs. Laffan and A. Nolan, 1 up; Miss Lees and Robin Kent and Miss K. Kavanagh and W. C. Byrne tied for second place with 1 down.

HERMITAGE.—To-day—Wednesday Cup, final.

CASTLE.—The competition for the monthly medals resulted as follows:—Class I.—C. Stronach (11), 72; H. T. S. Young (11), 74; J. Thompson (14), 75. Class II.—C. W. Searight (22) and A. J. White (24), 70; D. W. Alexander (18), 71; T. Maxwell (17), 71. The tie for winner of Class II. to be played off this evening at 6 o'clock.

BALLYCASTLE.—A mixed foursomes competition was played on Saturday. Details:—Semi-final—Miss Blacker and C. B. Pelly (37) beat Miss McGranaghan and T. Elsin (34)—3 and 2; Miss D. Grove and C. S. Pelly (32) beat Miss Jackson and Dr. McGranaghan (31)—2 and 1. Final—Miss Blacker and C. B. Pelly beat Miss Grove and C. S. Pelly—4 and 2. Mrs. Pedlow and R. Pedlow won the Consolation with 7 down.

THE HORSE SHOW.

JUMPING COMPETITIONS.

Intending exhibitors are reminded that entries for the Inter-Hunt Jumping Competition, to be held in connection with the coming Horse Show at Ballsbridge, close finally on August 1st.

SPORTING PARAGRAPHS.

The Galway and Tuam meetings arranged for next week have been abandoned.

Owners and trainers should note that entries for several races at the Curragh August Meeting and one race at the Waterford and Tramore Meeting close to-day.

The horses owned by Horatio Bottomley were sold at Upper Dicker, Sussex, by order of the Receiver, and the seventeen lots fetched 1,805½ gns. The top price was 650 gns., paid for Nareesh, while Mantuanus fetched 400 gns. The two-year-old, Manx Crag colt, was sold for half-a-guinea.

ANGLING.

BANN AND TRIBUTARIES.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

The Bann is still in the best of order, its volume being slow to respond to a dry spell, such as is now being experienced. Although there is a really fine head of salmon all over the river—from Coleraine to Toome—sport commensurate with this stock is not being had, though it has not been bad at Kilrea and Caronroe, which are amongst the best fishing waters of the river. The close, muggy weather seems to be the important factor. There is plenty of water going over the Salmon Leap, and fresh fish are daily coming into the tide way from the Atlantic. I find that I was a little bit out when I said last week that the sea trout do not get over the Salmon Leap. They do in certain conditions of water negotiate the fish-pass in that great obstacle, and are frequently got in the traps of the fishery there, but although they do get along the length of the Bann they are rarely found in Lough Neagh. A correspondent informs me that salmon fishing about Coleraine, which waters get the first run of fish, has been the poorest for a long time, over 100 fish having been killed at this time last year, as against under half a dozen for so far this season. Last season the salmon lay below the falls in large number, and took fly, shrimp, and worm very readily.

LEICESTERSHIRE V. GLOUCESTERSHIRE.

A CLOSE FINISH.

A keen and most exciting finish was witnessed at Ashby on a rain-affected wicket. Leicestershire, although only set 37 to win, had to struggle strenuously to avoid defeat after a sensational collapse, and succeeded in winning by two wickets. Play was resumed at 11 o'clock, and Dipper and Dennett, continuing Gloucester's second innings, put on 33 by forcing tactics. They hit 6 fours, 4 of them by Dennett, but after they left at the same total Lyon and Green tried to force the game, but the bowlers held the upper hand, and the last seven wickets fell for the addition of only 19 runs. The innings lasted 95 minutes, Leicestershire being set the small total of 37 to win. Astill and Geary bowled, with complete success. Leicester had fifty minutes' batting, and before the interval Parker and Mills carried all before them, half the side being out for 6 runs, and the seventh wicket fell when only 8 had been scored. Sidwell and Geary took the total to 18, and after lunch Sidwell hit a six, and when he left 13 were wanted. Geary and Shipman batted with great steadiness at the critical stage, and Geary made the winning hit with four to leg off Mills, amid great cheering. Score:—

	1st Inns.	2nd Inns.
Gloucestershire	72	75
Leicestershire	111	37 (8 wkts.)

SUSSEX V. SOMERSET.

SOMERSET WIN BY THREE WICKETS.

After a match in which interest was sustained until the last minute, Somerset beat Sussex at Eastbourne by three wickets. When Daniell left in Tate's first over, Somerset, with six wickets in hand, needed 127 for victory, so that both counties had an equal chance of winning. When Lowry, by free hitting during the fifth wicket partnership with Considine, scored 65 out of 80, a decisive victory for the visiting county seemed assured; but, with seven wickets down, 17 runs were still required. Careful batting by Creswell and Considine, however, brought its reward, judicious running between the wickets bringing the match to a close at half-past one o'clock. Score:—

	1st Inns.	2nd Inns.
Sussex	147	220
Somerset	206	162 (7 wkts.)

CASTLE PARK v. ARAVON SCHOOL.—Played at Dalkey, Aravon winning by 16 runs. R. Waller (41) and L. Manning (16) obtained 57 of the winners' total, eight of the side failing to score. Mullan (16) and Stubbs (11) were top scorers for the home side, for whom Irwin took four wickets in four balls. This was Castle Park's first defeat of the season. Score:—

DUBLIN SOCIETY FOR THE PREVENTION OF CRUELTY TO ANIMALS (INCORPORATED).

At the weekly meeting of the Committee of the Dublin Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals Mr. William Perrin presided. The following were also present:—Miss Tuckey, Miss Hillas, Mr. F. Oliver Lyons, Major Arthur Whewell, Mr. W. H. Wilkinson, M.R.C.V.S.; Dr. Maurice Dockrell, L.R.C.P. and S.I., and C. E. Grahame Harvey, Secretary.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read, confirmed, and signed.

Five cases of cruelty were reported by the inspectors during the week. Five are to be summoned.

List of convictions obtained during the week in cases already reported was read.

Reports on dogs sold and claimed at the Dogs' Home, Grand Canal quay, during the week were submitted.

Minutes of Sub-Committee meetings were read, approved, and signed.

A letter from Mr. T. F. Moore was read relative to the rescue of a cat from the tower of the Protestant Church at Sandymount by Michael Byrne, of Sandymount, at considerable risk to his life. For this brave and humane act the Committee awarded him £1, with certificate of the Society.

The following subscriptions, etc., were thankfully acknowledged, viz.:—Mrs. Story, £1 (per Miss Hillas); Dr. and Mrs. Maurice Dockrell, £2 10/- ("Donkey Prize Fund"); Lord George FitzGerald, £1; Charles D. Mahony, Esq., 10/6 D.S.P.C.A. and 10/6 "Donkey Prize Fund"; Miss M. Nolan, 2/6 ("Donkey Prize Fund"); Miss E. Nolan, 2/6 ("Donkey Prize Fund"); Mrs. F. W. Hayes, 5/- ("Donkey Prize Fund.")

Having disposed of the remaining business on the agenda the Committee adjourned.

IN WOMEN'S HANDS

In the hands of the women of Ireland lies the power to effect the economic liberation of their country. Four-fifths of the money spent in Ireland is spent by women. Last year they spent £64,000,000 on imported goods while Irish men and women emigrated for lack of work. Do your share to remedy this. Let every purchase you make in the future be of Irish make. Begin with the brands below. Their quality is unrivalled.

(IRISH PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT).

DECREE NO. 7, 1922.

A Decree to restrict and regulate the importation of, and to obtain information as to the distribution of, certain goods and articles.

WHEREAS disturbances have taken place and disorder prevails in certain parts of the area under our jurisdiction; AND WHEREAS we deem it expedient in the public interest and for the establishment of orderly administration, to restrict and regulate the importation of certain goods and articles, and to obtain information as to the persons to whom the same are distributed: NOW WE, THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT, duly constituted pursuant to the provisions of the Treaty between Great Britain and Ireland, signed at London on the 6th day of December, 1921, by virtue and force of all and every the powers and authorities us hereunto enabling do hereby DECREE and ORDER as follows:—

1. The goods and articles enumerated and described in the Schedule annexed to this Decree (which Schedule shall be read as part of this Decree) are hereby prohibited to be imported or brought into the area of jurisdiction of the Provisional Government, save under the authority and in accordance with the conditions of a permit in that behalf, first obtained from the Minister for Home Affairs in the Provisional Government, and, if any goods or articles so enumerated and described shall be imported or brought into the said area, contrary to these prohibitions and restrictions, such goods or articles shall be forfeited, and shall be deemed to have been imported in contravention of the provisions of the Customs Consolidation Act, 1876, as though the goods or articles in question were contained in the table of prohibitions and restrictions set out in Section Forty-two of that Act.

2. Every permit for the importation or bringing in of any such goods or articles as aforesaid
(a) shall contain a condition that the same shall be imported or brought into the said area only through the Port of Dublin, or, in a particular case, with the approval of the Adjutant-General of the National Army, previously obtained, that the same may be imported or brought in through another port to be therein named;
(b) may prescribe the quantity of such goods to be imported under such permit;
(c) may prescribe the person or persons to whom the same are to be delivered, and the person or persons by or through whom the same may be distributed;
(d) may contain such other conditions, restrictions, or limitations as the Minister for Home Affairs shall prescribe.

3. Every person to whom any of the said goods or articles shall be delivered within the aforesaid area shall prepare and furnish, from time to time, to the Minister for Home Affairs, returns showing particulars of such goods or articles received by him or his agents or servants, and the persons to whom the same shall have been distributed or transferred, whether by way of sale (wholesale or retail) or otherwise, and shall comply with all requirements of the Minister for Home Affairs as to the times within which such returns shall be made, and the particulars to be set forth therein, and such other regulations as may from time to time be made in relation thereto by the said Minister.

4. (1) This Decree may be cited as the Provisional Government (Restrictions on Importations) Decree No. 7, 1922.

(2) This Decree shall have effect until the 6th day of December, 1922, unless sooner annulled by Decree of the Provisional Government.

WEATHER FORECAST.

General Inference.—The wedge of high pressure covering the British Isles will cause fine weather for another twenty-four hours, perhaps longer, over the Eastern districts. The West will be affected by a new depression from the Atlantic, and unsettled conditions are likely to spread over the whole Kingdom.

Ireland.—Wind South to South-West, moderate, freshening; cloudy, some rain later; mist in places; moderate temperature.

South-West seaboard, mouth of Channel to South-West Ireland; Irish Sea and St. George's Channel; North-West seaboard, Northern Ireland to Hebrides—Wind South to South-West, moderate to strong; sea rather rough; dull, some rain; mist in places.

NEWS SUMMARY.

IRELAND.

National troops have occupied Castlebar without opposition.—(P. 5.)

Seven civilians were wounded in ambushes in Dublin yesterday.—(P. 5.)

GREAT BRITAIN.

The Government's resolutions on the reform of the House of Lords were further discussed in the Upper Chamber yesterday.—(P. 4.)

The House of Commons yesterday passed a resolution ordering the issue of warrants for the attendance of Mr. Bottomley should he desire to make a statement in the House.—(P. 6.)

In his Presidential address at the annual meeting of the British Medical Association at Glasgow last night, Sir William MacEwen said that many fields of scientific investigation were neglected or in their infancy. He criticised the national habit of indifference to great discoveries until their potentialities had been turned to practical account by other nations. Cerebral surgery had its limits, but these had not been reached.—(P. 5.)

The Earl of Balfour has written to M. Poincaré that the Government will be delighted to see him in London next week in order to discuss the question of German reparations and inter-Allied debts.—(P. 5.)

ABROAD.

A critical situation has been created in Germany by Bavaria's insistence on her rights as a separate State.—(P. 5.)

Mr. Hoover has abandoned hope that the great strike in America will be averted. Supplies of coal have been ordered in Wales for the United States.—(P. 5.)

SPORTING.

At Goodwood yesterday Tetrameter won the Stewards' Cup.—(P. 3.)

COMMERCIAL.

London Stock Markets, after a good opening, closed dull.—(P. 7.)

Money was in more ample supply, but credits are getting scarcer. The foreign exchanges were steadier.—(P. 7.)

Dublin Stock Exchange was firm, both Guinness and Bank Stock improving.—(P. 7.)

PONTYPRIDD ELECTION.

Polling took place in the Pontypridd Division yesterday, the candidates being Mr. T. A. Lewis, Coalition Liberal, who sought re-election on appointment as Junior Lord of the Treasury, and Mr. Hardy Jones, Labour. Both parties claimed a victory, though the Coalitionists anticipate a reduction of their last majority. The result will be declared to-day.

ACCIDENT TO THE OLYMPIC.

The White Star Line announces that when dry-docking the Olympic at Southampton it was found that the steamer's stern post had been fractured. Her August sailings have been cancelled. It is hoped that the Olympic will be able to sail from Southampton for New York on September 13.

The Allies' Burden.

The acute political crisis in Italy has interfered seriously with the Allies' plans for a review of the reparations problem; but matters in Germany have become so dangerous that no further delay is possible. The immediate necessity is a meeting between M. Poincaré and Mr. Lloyd George. Public opinion in France is beginning to recognise at last that Europe's trade must come to a complete stop very soon unless something is done to reduce the bill for reparations. M. Poincaré, therefore, has consented to meet Mr. Lloyd George in London, and the meeting probably will take place in the middle of next week. The attendance of an Italian delegate is uncertain; but in all probability the Belgian Government will be asked to send a representative. The chief cause for alarm is to be found not in Berlin, but in Vienna; for the possibility of the complete collapse of Austrian currency gravely imperils the comparative stability of German money. Even at its present value the mark is so low that the payment of a substantial sum in cash by the German Government is quite out of the question for the time being. The proposal of a six weeks' moratorium is ludicrous. In the meantime the mark might fall from 2,000 to 5,000, or even 10,000, to the £, and the last vestige of hope would disappear.

The remedy—if, indeed, any remedy is now possible—must be twofold. The gross total of the Allies' claims must be reduced, and Germany must be allowed to raise a foreign loan. France, apparently, is quite willing to agree to these suggestions on the condition that she renounces no part of her claim. The proposal, as advanced by the Paris Victoire, is rather interesting. Britain is to play her traditional rôle of fairy godmother. She must forego, in the first place, 30,000,000,000 gold marks of her claim against Germany in token of her goodness of heart. By this sacrifice the reparations bill will be reduced from 132,000,000,000 to 102,000,000,000 gold marks. Then France, Belgium and Italy will pay their debt of 20,000,000,000 gold marks to Britain by means of "C" reparations bonds. Britain will tear them up, with the result that Germany's total liability will be reduced to 82,000,000,000 gold marks. It is an ingenious scheme, the net result of which would be that Britain would renounce her claim to £2,600,000,000, and France would lose nothing. Germany would benefit considerably by the adoption of this plan; but, despite Britain's anxiety to bring about a reasonable settlement, we hardly can believe that her quixotry will carry her to such an extreme.

Of course, in the long run, some such reductions must be made; but why should Britain be the only loser? America is pressing every day for payment of the £1,000,000,000 which the British Government borrowed in the United States during the war, chiefly for the purpose of re-lending it to France and other Allied Powers. Britain is the only State in Europe that is making the slightest effort to square her war accounts, and her people are overburdened with all sorts of taxes. The least which she is entitled to expect is that, if she makes concessions to France, France will sacrifice something in her turn. Europe must be saved from disaster. The primary cause of her present plight is the hopelessness of Germany's financial position, and that position is due directly to the fantastic bill which was presented to her by the Reparations Commission last March. Not only Britain, but every other creditor Power, must abate its demands, and thus give Germany a chance to raise a loan in the United States or in the open market. France would lose a certain amount on paper, it is true; but, in fact, she would benefit enormously, with the rest of Europe, from the general revival in trade which Germany's recovery would carry in its train. The British people long ago abandoned their wild dreams of a huge indemnity from the Germans. The French people must follow their example; for, unless M. Poincaré agrees next week to modify France's claims, neither Ally will get anything at all from Germany, and the franc will begin to follow the mark in its race after the krone and the rouble.

A Balance Redressed.

Time brings its revenges in all the spheres of life. A year ago these islands were starving for coal and were forced to depend upon imports from the United States and Belgium. There were grave fears that Britain would lose her foreign markets permanently. Schemes were floated for regular exports of coal from America to Ireland in competition with the British article. The English strike came to an end in due course, and, although the miners have not recovered their old prosperity—there is acute distress in South Wales at the present time—British coal is regaining its place in the world's markets. Now the position has been reversed and America has become the coal-hunter. Her industries have been paralysed by a vast strike of miners and railwaymen. It is a real trial of strength—often postponed, but inevitable—between Labour and the great "trusts," and it is likely to be bitter and prolonged. President Hardinge has marshalled all the forces of law against the strikers; but, if they are to be defeated, the big industries must continue to be fed. They must have coal at any price, and their urgent orders are pouring into Wales and Scotland. A big and sudden rush of prosperity has come to Cardiff, which, for the time being, is renewing the rich experiences of the Great War. During the last few days American purchasers have placed orders for 300,000 tons for prompt shipment. The American Shipping Board has allotted steamers to the extent of 500,000 tons for the transport of coal from Great Britain. It is believed that the United States are ready to take a monthly supply of two million tons from British collieries. The leading companies in South Wales are booked up until the end of August and, of course, prices have hardened. Within a few days quotations for the best Admiralty qualities have increased from 24s. to 30s. Even if the strikes are settled at an early date, the American demand is likely to continue for some months, since heavy quantities of coal must be stored for the coming winter. The English and Irish peoples may feel disposed to regard this turn of fortune's wheel with philosophic indifference or even with some satisfaction; but it is quite probable that they may be compelled to pay a share of the cost of Labour's upheaval in the United States. The price of coal may increase in the home markets and the diversion of so much tonnage to the service of coal may have a disconcerting effect on food supplies. It is reported from Oregon that ships are being obtained with difficulty for the transport of the North-West wheat crop. On the whole, it would seem that the American strikes are an international misfortune—whatever the British coal industry may think on the subject.

Dublin's Fire Brigade.

There are some comforting features in Ireland's sad history during the last few weeks. The forces of conservation, as well as the forces of destruction, have been at work. When we deplore the national losses in life and property we ought not to withhold our grateful recognition from those whose efforts prevented the losses from being greater than they are. We reported yesterday a ceremony which cannot have failed to give real pleasure to all good citizens of Dublin. Presentations were made to Captain Myers, Lieutenant Power and the men of the Dublin Fire Brigade by the owners of premises in Upper Sackville street which were saved from the flames. The obligation of these owners to the Brigade is direct and great; but it is shared in a less degree by the whole city. We know now that, if the Brigade had been less valiant and less skilful, the whole northern side of the city might have been destroyed. The men of the Fire Brigade, like those of the St. John Ambulance Brigade—henceforward the word "brigade" will have special honour in Dublin—would be the first to say that they did no more than their duty. There are different measures, however, in which duty can be fulfilled. When it is done in circumstances of uncommon danger, with an entire disregard of self and an utter devotion to the public weal, it is something more than "duty done." It is an example which elevates the temper of a whole community and endows the humblest citizen with a new pride in the men who render such duty and in the city which inspires it. Dublin is no mean city, and the men of its Fire Brigade "nothing common did or mean" when the fiery furnace of Upper Sackville street beckoned them to a crucial test of service.

Monte Carlo Wells.

"The man who broke the bank at Monte Carlo" has become a legend to the younger generation; but he was alive until last Saturday. Some thirty years have passed since Charles Wells gained notoriety as the winner of enormous sums at the gaming table. "Light come, light go," however, and in 1893 Wells was declared a bankrupt. Afterwards he served two long sentences for fraud, and next came into the public ken at Falmouth, where he arrived in 1912 as the owner of a luxurious steam yacht. He was arrested on information supplied by the French Government, and remarkable evidence was produced at the hearing of an application for his extradition on a charge of obtaining large sums by false pretences. He had opened an office in Paris and had offered interest at the rate of one per cent. per day on moneys invested with him. In six months he received more than two million francs, of which some 900,000 francs were paid back in interest. Extradition was granted, and in Paris Wells was sentenced to five years' imprisonment. He had invested most of his gains in English annuities and mortgages, and it was arranged that the income from them should be divided equally between the English and French creditors. It was the interest of these creditors that he should live as long as possible, and when he became destitute a few years ago they made him an allowance of £1 a week. He did his best for them by surviving until the age of eighty-one.

IRISH POST OFFICE.

COMMISSION OF INQUIRY.

The following statement, signed by Mr. J. G. Douglas, Chairman, and Mr. Thomas A. Murphy, Secretary, has been issued:—

On the completion of the first part of the work of the Commission which dealt with the bonus "cut" of 1st March last, a Joint Irish Post Office Departmental Committee, consisting of the heads of the department and of representatives of the staff, was set up at the suggestion of the Commission to see if the inquiry into the conditions generally of the Post Office could be more conveniently and expeditiously carried out by that means. That Committee has held three meetings. Owing to the state of public affairs at the moment it finds itself unable to continue the work for the present, and has decided to postpone its further deliberations until the month of October next.

Under these circumstances the Commission will also stand adjourned, and will not meet again until it becomes necessary for it to review the work of the Joint Departmental Post Office Committee.

(Signed),
J. G. DOUGLAS, Chairman.
THOMAS A. MURPHY, Secretary.

WESLEY'S CHAPEL.

The Wesleyan Methodist Conference, at Sheffield, concluded its representative session yesterday, when the business was largely domestic. The Conference sanctioned an appeal for £25,000 for restoring Wesley's Chapel, London, which it is proposed to make a centre for world-wide Methodism. It was decided to prepare a scheme for the next Conference, governing the admission to the Ministry of candidates who failed to reach the educational standard admitting them to Theological Colleges. Questions affecting colleges and the education of ministers' children were also discussed. The pastoral session opens to-day.

IRISH LAND STOCK.

The London Gazette of last night gave notice that, under the Irish Land Acts, 1903 and 1909, the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury give notice that, pursuant to Section 2 of the Irish Land Act, 1909, and Section 28 of the Irish Land Act, 1903, they have directed the creation of £1,700,000 Guaranteed 3 per cent. Stock, which stock has been issued to the National Debt Commissioners.

DEATH OF MR. GEORGE THORNE.

Mr. George Thorne, the old Savoyard, died on Monday night at Edlesborough, near Dunstable. He claimed that he created the tragic exposition of the end of "Jack Point" in the "Yeomen of the Guard." He played in the Savoy Opera for 23 years.

Mr. Thorne was very popular in Dublin. He was an all round artist, and although his voice was not remarkable, he had a rare gift of expression. He was at his best in those Gilbertian roles where comedy and pathos are so blended as to be inseparable. No other artist of his time possessed a rarer gift than Thorne, and in those characters that he had made his own no man excelled and few, if any, equalled him.

NORTHERN RAILWAY COMMISSION.

It is officially announced that the final session of the Railway Commission in Northern Ireland for the hearing of evidence will be held in the Central Hall, Municipal College of Technology, Belfast, at 11 a.m. on Thursday and Friday, the 27th and 28th instant. Evidence will be heard from Chambers of Commerce and other bodies, and the proceedings will be public.

COURT AND PERSONAL.

The Earl and Countess of Kerry are now at Frinton-on-Sea. Lord HolmPatrick left Dublin last week for London. Lord Clonmore has arrived at Shelton Abbey, Arklow, for the summer vacation. The Countess of Fingall is making a satisfactory recovery from her recent operation in London, and has now left the nursing home.

* * *

The Aga Khan, who spent the season in London, left for Paris last week, and has now arrived at Aix-les-Bains. Recent arrivals there include the Hon. Montague Parker, and Sir George Noble and his brother, Mr. Philip Noble. The Earl of Durham, who was at Aix-les-Bains, where his brother, the Hon. Frederick Lambton, was laid up for some time, has now returned with him to London.

* * *

Sir Claude Mallet, British Minister to Uruguay, who has been on leave in England for some time, has left for Montevideo, accompanied by Lady Mallet, who is a daughter of Don G. de Obarrio.

* * *

The Earl of Derby has left London for Paris and Lord and Lady Stanley are due at Deauville at the end of this week. Other departures from London include the Earl of Dunraven, who has joined his new motor yacht "Sona" at Southampton, and Lord and Lady Howard de Walden, who have left for Chirk Castle, their place in North Wales. Sir Evelyn Ruggles-Brise has gone to Berne to preside over the meeting of the International Prison Commission.

* * *

To-day Mr. George Bernard Shaw celebrates his sixty-sixth birthday. Few authors and dramatists have enjoyed such an unbroken record of success. On Monday at a Matinée in aid of the London Hospitals' Combined Appeal Fund his one-act play, "O'Flaherty, V.C." formed the great attraction. Mr. Shaw has written some thirty-seven plays and a number of novels, essays, pamphlets, and critiques.

* * *

The marriage arranged between Lady Doris Blackwood and Captain Cecil Gunston will take place in London early in October. The wedding of Lady Moyra Brodrick, youngest daughter of the Earl of Midleton and the late Lady Hilda Brodrick, with Major H. C. Loyd will take place on Saturday at St. Bartholomew's Church, Smithfield.

* * *

Sir Robert Woods has returned to 39 Merrion square.

* * *

Doctor Paul Carton has returned to 37 Fitzwilliam square.

* * *

Mr. Norman Stewart has left 18 Westland row for a month.

MARRIAGE OF LORD WILLIAM PERCY AND MISS MARY SWINTON.

Yesterday the marriage was celebrated, very quietly, in the Private Chapel of Lambeth Palace, of Lord William Percy, second son of the late Duke of Northumberland, and brother of the present peer, and Miss Mary Swinton, daughter of Captain and Mrs. George Swinton, of 107 Gloucester place, London. The Archbishop of Canterbury officiated, and Mr. Lambert Middleton attended the bridegroom as best man. The bride was given away by her father, and wore a graceful gown of white crêpe romain, draped with antique Limerick lace. Her veil was of similar lace. There were no bridesmaids or page, and, owing to the limited accommodation in the chapel, only near relatives and a few friends were invited. These included the Duke of Northumberland, the Duke of Argyll, Lord and Lady Eustace Percy, Lady Margaret Percy, Lady Victoria Percy, Lady Muriel Percy, Lord Algernon Percy, Lady Frances Balfour, Lady Mary Glyn, Lady Miller, Mrs. Swinton, Captain Allen Swinton, Miss Elizabeth Swinton, Captain and Mrs. Wynn Finch, and Mrs. Ebsworth.

GAIETY THEATRE.

"SAMSON AND DELILAH."

An appreciative audience thoroughly enjoyed the performance of Saint-Saëns's tuneful opera, "Samson and Delilah," last evening at the Gaiety Theatre, Dublin, by the O'Mara Opera Company. It was an excellent all-round presentation, and the singing and acting of Miss Eva Ball, as Delilah, deserved the applause bestowed upon her, especially in the scene with Samson in the second act, when she sang with Mr. David Grundy.

Mr. James Bird, as the High Priest, was in good voice, and sang and acted excellently. The other leading characters were adequately presented by Mr. Bevan (Abimelech), Mr. J. Bateman (an ancient Hebrew), Mr. Lucas (Philistine messenger), Mr. Clarke, and Mr. Bowring (Philistines).

ROYAL VISIT TO PORTSMOUTH.

In Naval Orders published at Portsmouth yesterday it is stated that the King, Queen, and Prince George will arrive at Portsmouth from Goodwood by motor cars on Friday evening, and embark on the Victoria and Albert in the dockyard. The Duke of Connaught and Their Majesties' guests will also arrive in the dockyard on Friday evening. The Royal yacht will leave on Saturday morning for Cowes, where the Barham battleship acts as guardship during Their Majesties' stay.

THE PRINCESS MARY.

The Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles arrived at Leeds last evening, and motored to Harewood, where they were met at the Park gate by the village school children and the Harewood tenantry, who gave them a hearty welcome.

ROYAL HIBERNIAN ACADEMY.

The annual award of prizes to the students of the Royal Hibernian Academy took place on July 24th. The judges were:—The President, Mr. Dermod O'Brien; Mr. H. C. Tisdall, R.H.A.; and Mr. Jack B. Yeats, R.H.A. The following awards were made:—

Painting from Life—1st prize, H. Townshend; 2nd prize, E. Shannon.

Drawing from Life—1st prize, K. Ennis; 2nd prize, J. Gorry; 3rd prize, V. MacDonnell.

Special Competition Drawing—1st prize, H. Townshend; 2nd prize, P. Netterville.

Drawings of Hands and Feet—1st prize, E. Yates; 2nd prize, K. Ennis.

Extra prizes:—J. Gorry, A. Rambaut, E. Yates.

Composition prizes were not awarded.

VISIT OF IRISH CONSUL TO AMERICA.

Mr. Joseph Connolly, Irish Consul, New York, who is on leave in Ireland, may now be seen by appointment at the offices of the Department of Trade and Commerce, Dail Eireann, 87 Grafton street, Dublin. Persons interested in trade with America should avail themselves of this opportunity of obtaining the advice and assistance of the Consul.

HONOURS COMMISSION.

In accordance with his undertaking, Mr. Lloyd George held a series of consultations yesterday on the subject of the personnel of the Royal Commission on the recommendations for Honours, seeing, among others, Sir Donald Maclean, Mr. Arthur Henderson, Mr. Clynes, and Sir Samuel Hoare. It is understood that questions of principle only were discussed, and that the list of names will be drawn up by the Prime Minister on his own responsibility.

REFORM OF THE LORDS.

VISCOUNT LONG AND OPPOSITION.

The adjourned debate on the House of Lords resolutions, moved by Viscount Peel, was resumed last evening by Lord Stuart of Wortley.

He said that the resolutions were framed in such a manner as to convey the impression that the Government were seeking to gain the credit for reform of the House without incurring any of the responsibility. The peers could do little with them until they got into Committee. It was clear, however, that the Government had conceded that some of the hereditary element was worth preserving, and also that the Parliament Act was no longer like the Ark of the Covenant, but was susceptible of amendment in fundamental matters.

Were the Government themselves going to amplify the resolutions in Committee? He advised members not to refuse to discuss the resolutions in Committee, or else they would expose themselves to misrepresentation outside. The time was opportune for reasonable changes on moderate lines.

Viscount Long said that he found himself almost alone in the particular opinions he held in regard to this question. If they were all agreed on the reforms they wanted, he entirely agreed with Lord Stuart that they could not have a quieter time than the present for effecting reforms, but were they agreed? He had listened to the debate, and had found the widest possible divergence of views among all the speakers. He believed that that was an accurate representation of opinion in the country.

Everybody now held that the Parliament Act went much too far. It had not only injured the House by unduly limiting its powers, but it had done great harm to the Parliamentary institutions of the country, because it had made it possible for men to believe that the Government, whatever their reasons might be, were prepared to treat with indignity and insult an important part of those Parliamentary institutions. But nobody would suggest reform of the House merely because the Parliament Act wanted altering.

When he sought for other reasons for reform of the House he had much greater difficulty in finding them. The House stood higher in public estimation than it did some years ago, when there was a strong feeling against the hereditary principle. His view was that the Government had done good service by bringing forward vague resolutions which were open to any amendment the House liked to make. The hereditary system should not be lightly changed.

There was no choice between the hereditary system, somewhat altered or amended, and a popularly elected body. That being so, they were taking a tremendous step in the dark. The House of Lords stood stronger with the people now than it had ever done, and that was another reason for taking care. He denied that there was any justification for holding the opinion that the Labour Party was in any way more likely to go in for Republics or drastic steps of that kind. He believed that the hostility to the hereditary system was really dead.

The Marquis of Aberdeen said that there was an expectation that something should be done to reform the House. The resolutions and the discussion on them were useful as a basis for future action.

The debate was adjourned until next Monday, and the House rose at 7.25 p.m.

RAILWAY SERVICES.

GREAT SOUTHERN AND WESTERN LINE.

It was ascertained at Kingsbridge yesterday that the damage on the section between Tullamore and Geashill was made good by the company on Monday afternoon, and the service was resumed, but for the third time the line was damaged yesterday morning in the same place, preventing the operation of a through service on the line between Portarlington, Clara and Athlone. On the Clara side of Tullamore a service is being maintained to the point of obstruction. The service has been resumed on the Clara and Banagher Branch.

The line between Limerick and Nenagh is not available as, so far, the company's men are not being allowed to do the necessary repairs.

A local train service between Limerick and Ennis is still maintained, but there is no service on West Clare Railway from Ennis, all traffic being suspended at present.

The line which was repaired on Monday on the branch between Limerick and Limerick Junction was again torn up on Monday night, preventing the introduction of a service on that portion of the line.

Rail service has been resumed on Waterford, Rosslare and Wexford South branch, but there is no service on Waterford and Lismore section, Waterford and Carrick section, and Waterford and Ballyhale section. These three branches have been damaged—lines torn up and sleepers burned—preventing a service between Waterford and Cork, or Dublin via Kilkenny or Limerick Junction. All telegraph wires at Waterford were cut yesterday.

The trading community does not seem to realise that goods, mineral and live stock, are being catered for between Dublin and Thurles, Kilkenny and Ballyhale via Maryborough; also to Tulla, Nenagh, Roscrea and Birr, and there is a limited service between Kilkenny and Athy (particulars in our advertising columns).

There seems no early prospect of opening up the service in the main line beyond Thurles from Dublin direction. Between Dundrum and Grange on 18th inst. explosives were used in breaking up a bridge. The rails were badly bent and the road twisted.

A report yesterday morning stated that huge quantities of goods have been seized by irregular forces at Limerick goods premises during the last week.

DUBLIN TO WATERFORD.

The Dublin and South-Eastern Railway line from Macmine Junction to Waterford was cleared for traffic yesterday evening at 4 o'clock. Through traffic will run from Dublin to Waterford to-day.

TRAINS TO THE WEST.

The Midland Great Western Company stated last evening that trains are now running as far as Claremorris on the Westport line. On the Galway line there is no advance beyond Athenry. The line to Sligo is opening, and the trains are running as usual.

TELEGRAPH SERVICES.

Yesterday again there was no telegraphic service to Cork or Clonmel. The result is that districts served from these centres are also out of communication by telegraph. Limerick is now working, and the telegraph sub-offices in that district are also getting into order rapidly. There is, however, no communication with Kilmallock. In the West, Sligo, Claremorris, and Boyle lines are working. Connection with Wexford has been restored.

THE MACROOM OUTRAGE.

In the House of Commons yesterday, Mr. Churchill, in reply to Captain Viscount Curzon, who asked whether he would, at the earliest possible moment, take advantage of the suggestion of the Irish Provisional Government and arrange for a joint inquiry into all the circumstances attending the murders of British officers and men at Macroom, Cork, Dublin and elsewhere since that Government came into being, said that he thought his noble friend would agree that the question of a joint inquiry was not a practical one at the present moment. But he could assure him that the British Government had no intention of remitting their exertions to secure the apprehension and punishment of the perpetrators of these crimes.

Viscount Curzon asked, as the Free State Government had suggested an inquiry, for an assurance that one would be held at the earliest possible moment.

Mr. Churchill said that the country was still in the hands of the insurgent forces, and the Free State was not yet established in that area. He should prefer to review the circumstances afresh when the Free State Government was in full control of that territory.

SHAW COMMISSION.

Mr. Churchill, having been asked by Mr. O'Neill whether a decree for malicious injury in Ireland, awarded after strong opposition from a District Council at the hearing, has to be considered by Lord Shaw's Committee writes:—If the hon. member will refer to the warrant of appointment of Lord Shaw's Commission he will see that only undefended cases come within the terms of reference, and that undefended cases are defined as cases in which the Council of the County or County Borough, in whose area the destruction or injury occurred, did not appear by counsel or solicitor in opposition to the claim. Opposition by a District Council only, therefore, does not take a case out of the jurisdiction of the Commission.

LOSSES IN IRELAND.

Mr. Churchill writes, in reply to Mr. O'Neill, who enquired what steps should be taken by persons who have suffered exceptional hardship through losses in Ireland to obtain advances of compensation from Imperial funds, that application should in the first instance be addressed to the Secretary, Irish Distress Committee, 9 Queen Anne's Gate.

DOUBLE DROWNING ACCIDENT.

In attempting to recover a golf ball which had rolled into the River Irwell, near Clifton Junction, Lancashire, Thomas Askew, aged 14, fell in, and dragged with him his brother, Joseph, aged 11, who bravely tried to save him. Both were drowned.

LONDON LETTER.

PARLIAMENT'S HOLIDAYS.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
TUESDAY NIGHT.

Only one subject really interested the House of Commons as a whole to-day, and that was the proposed date of the adjournment. In moving the suspension of the eleven o'clock rule for the remainder of the present sittings, Mr. Chamberlain gave a long list of the Bills that would be held over until the autumn, and a much longer list of those which must be passed before the House rose, including, I was interested to note, the Constabulary (Ireland) Bill.

He admitted that it sounded a rather formidable programme, but explained that most of the measures enumerated were almost non-contentious, and expressed the hope that, with the continued co-operation of the House, it would be possible to take the adjournment on Friday, August 4th. The House cheered the announcement, and it cheered still more when its leader added that, subject to a provision for an earlier meeting if necessary, it would not be asked to resume its labours until Tuesday, November 14th. That will be a longer recess than it has enjoyed for several years.

A rather perfunctory discussion followed. Mr. Clynes made the usual complaint against the Government for not arranging its business better, so as to avoid this end-of-the-session pressure, and also inquired what would be the Government's attitude during the autumn sittings towards private members' bills, his interest being, doubtless, chiefly aroused by the Bill for amending the Trade Union Act of 1913, which, if passed, may shatter the finances of the Labour Party. Sir Donald Maclean was of opinion that most of the labour of the House had been useless or mischievous, and that the Government had brought in far too many bills. Never having held office, Sir Donald can dogmatise on this subject with a happy sense of irresponsibility.

Prior to this the House had formally passed the motion "that Mr. Horatio Bottomley do attend this House in his place upon Tuesday next," though it was explained that his attendance was not necessary unless he desired to be present.

THE EMBARGO DIVISION.

One of the features of the division on the removal of the cattle embargo last night was the unanimity of the Irish members that the embargo ought not to be removed. Major Redmond turned up to vote with Messrs. Devlin, MacVeagh and Donnelly, while the Ulster Unionists also voted in the same lobby, as well as the Dublin Unionists, Sir Maurice Dockrell and Mr. Jellett. Mr. T. P. O'Connor does not seem to have voted.

The jubilee of the Eastern Associated Telegraph Companies was celebrated at the Botanic Gardens last night with a great banquet, with the Duke of York as chief guest, and a garden fête to five thousand guests. It was a fine evening, and the gardens were very beautiful with thousands of fairy lamps. At the close there was a huge display of fireworks, which thoroughly alarmed Northern London with its likeness to an air raid on a big scale, and this morning everybody was questioning neighbours whether they had heard the guns in the night.

Professor Johnstone has edited a most interesting report on fish supplies for the Lancashire Sea Fisheries Laboratory of the Liverpool University. One question discussed in the report is the state of the fisheries during the war years when large tracts of the North Sea, Irish Sea and English Channel were not fished owing to military restrictions. The investigators of the Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries found in 1920 that certain kinds of fish, mainly plaice, in the North Sea were not only bigger on the average, but were also much more abundant than they were in 1913. This was ascribed to the war conditions. If the fish were not caught, it seemed natural to suppose that they would become bigger and more abundant. And so, when fishing was resumed on the pre-war scale, there immediately set in both an increase in size and in number. The conclusion was that too many fish of certain kinds were caught in the North Sea before 1914. When fishing was partially stopped the grounds had a rest and became re-stocked. It appears from the report that something of the same kind happened in the Irish Sea. The years about 1910 to 1914 were poor ones, but in 1920 fish (plaice) had become much more abundant.

Wednesday, October 3, will be a red-letter day for English Freemasonry; for on that day the Duke of Connaught will preside over a meeting of the United Grand Lodge of England in the Albert Hall, and the Prince of Wales will be installed as Senior Grand Warden. It is expected that the ceremony will be witnessed by some nine thousand Freemasons.

At the same time a portrait of the Duke of Connaught, as Grand Master, commissioned by the Grand Lodge of England, will be unveiled. This will ultimately find a place in the great new hall which is to be a memorial of the Freemasons who fell in the war.

WREATHS FOR THE CENOTAPH.

Apropos of the fact that wreaths have recently been deposited on the Cenotaph with partisan inscriptions, the First Commissioner of Works is to be asked to-morrow what are the regulations as regards the laying of wreaths, whether there is any censorship on the messages attached to them, and whether wreaths are only allowed in memory of officers, men, or regiments who suffered during the war.

Mr. William Shaw, who moved the resolution for the removal of the Canadian embargo, inquired to-day whether a Bill to carry out the decision of the House would be introduced in the autumn, but he got very little satisfaction from the Leader of the House, who doubted whether the limits of the Parliamentary session this year would permit of legislation on such a subject.

This statement afforded a good opportunity for Captain Wedgwood Benn to interpose with the observation that this meant that there would be no time either to reform the House of Lords, and that the ghost-like resolutions now under discussion were not to take any definite form. He only hoped that Sir George Younger was feeling quite satisfied and contented.

Sir George Younger, who happened to be present, smiled and raised his hat, but otherwise gave no indication of the state of his feelings.

The motion for the suspension of the eleven o'clock rule was agreed to, and the Electricity Supply Bill was considered on report. In the course of the discussion, and whilst Mr. Arthur Neal was speaking on a new clause, Mr. Hogge entered the House, and, after seating himself, placed his feet on the edge of the table. Something else which was not apparent to most of those present must have happened; for Mr. Neal accused the hon. member of sneering at him. Mr. Austin Hopkinson reminded the somewhat sensitive Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Transport that the hon. member always sat like that. Mr. Hogge himself disclaimed any intention of sneering. He explained that he was merely smiling at an idea which suddenly occurred to him. With this Mr. Neal was satisfied.

YPRES LEAGUE.

Field Marshal Earl French of Ypres, O.M., K.P., etc., appeals to all ex-service men who have served in the Salient, and to relatives and friends of those who fell fighting at Ypres, to become enrolled as members of the Ypres League. Application forms, with full particulars of the League and its objects, will be sent on application to the Secretary, Ypres League, 23 Henrietta street, Cavendish square, London, W. 1.

CASTLEBAR OCCUPIED.

NO OPPOSITION OFFERED BY IRREGULARS.

TWO AMBUSHES IN DUBLIN

SEVEN CIVILIANS WOUNDED BY BOMB SPLINTERS.

The national forces have occupied Castlebar, formerly a stronghold of the irregulars, without opposition. Before withdrawing, however, the irregulars destroyed several public buildings.

The greater part of County Mayo has been cleared of irregulars, and the relief has not come a moment too soon for the inhabitants. Many of them are in distress.

The Providence Woollen Mills at Foxford have been closed, pending the return of normal conditions, and 300 men and women have been thrown out of employment.

There were two ambushes in Dublin yesterday. The troops escaped injury, but seven civilians were wounded.

Mr. Gavan Duffy, Minister for Foreign Affairs, has resigned from the Government.

DUBLIN AMBUSHES.

SIX CIVILIANS WOUNDED IN AUNGIER STREET.

Another ambush of national soldiers took place in Dublin yesterday evening, and six civilians sustained slight shrapnel wounds caused by the explosion of a bomb used in the attack.

The soldiers, eight in number, were travelling in a Crossley tender through Aungier street, toward Portobello Barracks at about 5.45 o'clock, and as they were passing York street five or six young men who were standing at the corner of Whitefriar place threw two bombs, and fired about twelve shots from revolvers at them. The bombs missed the tender. One of them failed to explode, but the other went off with a terrifying noise, causing great alarm to people in the street, which was very congested at the time as hundreds of workers were going home from their employment. The people rushed into houses and shops and the Carmelite Church for safety.

The soldiers, in order to avoid causing injury to innocent citizens, did not stop to return the fire. Meanwhile, the assailants, with smoking revolvers in their hands dashed along Whitefriar place, in the direction of Peter's row, and escaped.

It was then found that six civilians had been injured. They were taken to the Adelaide Hospital, where it was found that their wounds were not of a serious character, and after treatment, they were able to leave.

The names given by the injured were:—James McGlone, 56 York street, who was cut in the arm; Peter Moore, 21 Iveagh Buildings, wounded in the leg; John Behan, 28 Clarendon street, cut in the shoulder; Henry Halpin, 28 Iveagh Buildings, slight wound in the jaw; Lily Paul, 28 Iveagh Buildings, superficial wound in the shoulder; Mrs. Hogan, 28 Iveagh Buildings, wound in the right leg.

The unexploded bomb remained in the centre of the road for a considerable time. Then two young men, one carrying a bucket of water approached it. The bomb was placed in the bucket and the young men were going with it towards York street when two national soldiers followed, took the bucket from them, placed them under arrest, and took them in a private motor car to Wellington Barracks.

Later a large number of national troops arrived and searched the locality for the ambushers.

NORTH SIDE AMBUSH.

A CIVILIAN INJURED.

At 8.35 o'clock last night a tender conveying armed national soldiers was attacked in North Frederick street, Dublin. The tender came from Dorset street, and when it had almost reached Frederick lane a bomb was thrown at it. The bomb missed the tender, and struck the kerbstone on the opposite side of the street, exploding with a deafening noise. People who were walking along the street hastened to the nearest open doors, while the tramcar traffic was brought to a stand-still. The bomb fragments were scattered in all directions, and portion of the sign outside the L.S.E. taxicab premises was blown away. Windows of a house on the other side of the street were also damaged, and portions of the bomb were afterwards found inside the room. Fortunately there was no one in the room at the time.

Immediately after the attack the soldiers dismounted from the lorry at Gardiner's row, and searched Frederick lane and portion of Dorset street adjoining it, but did not find the attackers. They did not fire any shots. None of the military was injured, but a civilian named William Martin, aged 73 years, of 5 Hardwicke place, was struck by a piece of shrapnel in the thigh, and was taken in the Corporation ambulance to the Mater Misericordiæ Hospital, where his condition was considered serious.

Mrs. Mary D. Lacey, 91 Phibsborough road, was also taken to the same hospital. She was unconscious, and was found to be suffering from shock.

ATTACK AT STATION.

SHOTS FROM THE HOUSETOPS.

In connection with the ambush of national troops near Wexford on Monday evening, a further violent attack was made on them (as reported in our late edition of yesterday) at Harcourt street Station, Dublin, on the arrival of the train at about eleven o'clock. No sooner had the prisoners, whom the national troops were escorting, been lined up on the platform than a fierce fusillade was opened at them from the tops of houses, and from buildings at the rear of the station. There was a panic among the crowds both within and without the station. The national troops replied to the attack, and during the quarter of an hour that the firing lasted the din was terrific.

Afterwards it was found that seven persons at least were wounded, one being one of the prisoners named Nicholas Kehoe, of Wexford, who was wounded in the knee. Dr. Curran, of Harcourt street, was wounded in the hand, and Edward Sutton, of Mount Pleasant avenue, in the arm.

An eye-witness states that, in addition to the firing from the roofs, there were a number of irregulars among the crowd, who fired several times. One national soldier was wounded.

ATTACK AT GOREY.

An attack with Mills bombs and rifles was made by irregulars on a small patrol of national troops in Main street, Gorey, early on Sunday morning. The bombs fell about ten yards from the military, but fortunately no one was injured. The fragments perforated the doors and broke several windows in the locality. As the national forces were retreating to the barracks fire was opened on them from the side streets, and the barrack sentry was also fired on from a laneway, the bullet going wide.

WITHOUT A SHOT.

IRREGULARS ABANDON CASTLEBAR.

The national troops left Claremorris at 11 o'clock on Monday night, and reached Castlebar without interruption. The irregulars who had gathered there had fled, and the town was taken over without a shot.

The county jail, the courthouse, and the barracks, where the irregulars had been stationed, were, however, burnt. The flames could be seen from the hills outside Claremorris.

More bridges have been blown up, and loud explosions have been heard to the north and west of Claremorris.

IRREGULAR IN WOMAN'S CLOTHES.

John Kennedy, a leader of the irregulars, was arrested in the Horse and Jockey district, near Thurles, yesterday. A patrol stopped a pony and trap, in which a person, dressed as a woman, was driving. A farmer's wife was asked to search the individual, and startled the leader of the patrol by exclaiming "This isn't a lady." Kennedy's identity was then established.

MR. GAVAN DUFFY.

RESIGNATION FROM IRISH CABINET.

We have received the following statement from Mr. G. Gavan Duffy, Minister of Foreign Affairs, in connection with his resignation:—

"Department of Foreign Affairs,
"Dublin.

"While I am entirely at one with the Government in its military policy, I find myself so much opposed to the official policy on certain other grave and urgent issues that I can no longer honourably remain in the Ministry, and I have accordingly resigned my office.

"(Signed) G. GAVAN DUFFY.

"25th July, 1922."

THE TRAIL OF FIRE.

DAMAGE BY IRREGULARS IN BIRR

The situation in Birr is now virtually normal. Since the entry of the national troops last Thursday many roads have been cleared, but transit, owing to the broken bridges, is still difficult. Crinkle Military Barracks, including the garrison church, was completely burnt. Looting of the fixtures took place afterwards.

The railway line was blocked by the irregulars, compelling a driver to run an engine and train on to a place from which the rails had been removed.

Banagher Barracks have been destroyed, as has also the wooden portion of the bridge across the Shannon.

The food situation was critical, owing to the irregulars seizing all classes of foods. Now, however, the food card system has been discontinued.

Banagher was occupied by national troops on Sunday, and Kilcormac was occupied yesterday. Ferbane, Belmont, and Cloghan are also in the hands of national troops. Castle Bernard, Kinnitty, one of the finest country residences in the Midlands, was burnt on Sunday.

An attempt was made last week to block with cement the working parts of the Victoria Locks on the Shannon near Banagher. The cement was removed before it hardened, otherwise an extensive portion of country would have been flooded. The Birr newspapers were under irregular censorship, and had to publish a considerable amount of propaganda matter. No actual fighting took place in Birr. There is still many bands of irregulars in the district, but the men are reported to be returning home.

SLIGO QUIET.

THE RIVERSTOWN OUTRAGE.

There is now a strong force of national troops stationed at various points in Sligo town, and several arrests have been effected. The activities of the troops have prevented any further swoops from being made on the town, but the irregulars continue to rove the surrounding district, and to quarter themselves on farmers and others.

One gentleman with a residence at a seaside resort near Sligo was obliged the other morning to prepare breakfast for twelve.

Some of the men appear to be getting tired of the job, and a report last evening states that a number of men under Mr. Carty walked into Ballymote and handed their arms to the national troops.

The people are sick of the whole affair. No business is being done. Country people are afraid to come into the town, and this, coupled with the bad condition of some of the roads, has brought markets and business generally to a low ebb. The stocks of petrol are under military control, and this means that the stolen lorries and motor cars are useless to the irregulars.

On further inquiry I learn that the shooting of Mrs. M'Donagh, of Kinchcullagh, Riverstown, has no political significance. Mrs. M'Donagh was shot by robbers. She is at the point of death. In consequence of the persistent robbery of his goods, her husband had to report certain individuals in his district. Cautions went unheeded. On Sunday he reported the larceny of turf. On Sunday night while he was away, and when there was no one in the house but his wife and four young children some young men burst in the door.

Mrs. M'Donagh was coming downstairs in her nightdress, carrying a lamp. She asked the men not to do anything to terrify the children. She was told to put down the lamp, and when she did so she received the contents of a shotgun in the breast. The house was then searched for her husband, the unfortunate woman remaining where she fell. Fortunately the husband was away, or he, too, would have shared her fate.

Two arrests have been made in connection with the outrage.

BALLAGHADEREEN.

IRREGULARS STILL IN POSSESSION.

Our Boyle Correspondent, telegraphing yesterday, says:—The overhead railway bridge between Boyle and Carrick-on-Shannon was blown up by irregulars. The damage, however, was quickly repaired by national forces, who arrived soon after the explosion from Boyle. They also speedily cleared the line of masses of débris.

Numbers of people who were travelling to Boyle Fair were greatly inconvenienced by the fallen bridge.

Irregulars are still in occupation of Ballaghadereen, and are seizing and fortifying fresh houses each day. The townspeople are suffering much inconvenience in consequence. Mines are laid in many of the streets, and all roads leading to the town are blocked.

MAYO MILLS CLOSED.

300 PEOPLE RENDERED WORKLESS.

The Providence Woollen Mills, Foxford, Co. Mayo, has been compelled to close down owing to the conditions brought about by the irregulars' occupation of the district. The following notice has been served on the employés:—

"PROVIDENCE WOOLLEN MILLS,
FOXFORD, CO. MAYO,
"1st July, 1922.

"NOTICE.

"Owing to the stoppage of trains and posts we are forced to shut down the mill until communications are opened again and normal business conditions restored.

"We have already large stocks on hands, and we cannot afford to increase same.

"Notice will be given when we are in a position to open again.

"AGNES MORROGH BERNARD, Manager."

Some idea of the hardship thus inflicted on the population of the district may be gleaned from the fact that the mills employed over 300 hands, bread-winners for 1,800 people. The town has suffered in other ways as well. By the blowing up of the viaduct over Lough Cullen, and the destruction of Ballycahan and Cloongullawn Bridges, it is completely cut off from communication with the outside world.

Arrests of Volunteers loyal to G.H.Q. and of civilian supporters of the Government are of nightly occurrence, and are always accompanied by fusillades of gunfire to frighten the women and children. The people are looking anxiously forward to their deliverance by the national troops.

STATE OF CORK.

GROWING UNEMPLOYMENT.

BUTTER AND BANKS.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)
(BY AN INDIRECT ROUTE.)

CORK, July 24.

Owing to the censorship, the public in a large portion of Munster are receiving no news on which they can rely. The only daily paper now published in Cork is so controlled that it has come to be regarded as a propagandist rather than a news sheet. The Dublin papers have not reached the city for three weeks, and the other side of the picture is hidden from view. Some of the English papers arrive a day late, but they contain very little news about the situation in Ireland.

Another effect of the censorship is to stifle the expression of public opinion. Meetings of Labour representatives calling for a cessation of hostilities have been held, but anything in the nature of criticism is suppressed in the published reports. If popular opinion, as expressed in private conversation, could prevail, those who brought about the present conflict would find themselves without an occupation. There is a strong desire among professional and commercial men, manufacturers, distributors, retailers, farmers and workmen that fighting should stop. Labour is especially keen on preventing a continuance of the conflict; for, although everything seems to be going on as usual, business is to a great extent paralysed.

This is due, in part, to the total interruption of postal communication with Dublin and the North, and a partial stoppage of communication with Great Britain. This was bad enough, but the blocking of the telegraph wires made matters worse, for it put merchants completely out of touch with their clients, and left them powerless.

SIGH OF RELIEF.

This has been going on for about three weeks, and a great sigh of relief went up when it was found to-day that an effort was being made to restore communication between North and South via Liverpool. In conversation with people of all classes and creeds, private individuals and traders, I gathered that the population, almost to a man, wants the Free State Government to function. The opinion of the people is wholly misrepresented to the world by the irregulars, for they are preponderatingly in favour of the Treaty.

Motor traders and owners of commercial motor vehicles are among those who have been most severely hit by the existing situation. Most of their cars have been seized, and very few are available for private individuals. This naturally hampers distribution, but its effect is not so injurious as the lack of telegraphic, telephonic, and general postal facilities. Merchants are unable to keep in touch with the markets where they deal, and orders cannot be given or received. Travellers cannot get about with freedom, and, even if they did, and obtained orders, there would be no way of ensuring delivery. Some firms have made an effort to "carry on" by sending goods to English ports for transhipment there to other parts of Ireland, a procedure which adds enormously to the cost.

It is estimated that there will be a loss of millions of pounds in the butter trade alone. Farmers want money, and are pressing the creameries for payment. As a rule, the settlement is monthly, but owing to the state of insecurity prevailing, cash is not readily obtainable from buyers in England, and, as a result, creamery proprietors have not always been able to pay the farmers promptly.

Some creamery managers, under pressure, have become panicky, and actually dumped butter on the market, with a resultant drop in the price as compared with Danish, though both are of equal quality. The supply is now greater than the demand, on account of insufficient facilities for transit. I have it on the very best authority that there is no occasion for Southern dairy farmers to become alarmed. When things settle down butter prices will become normal, and a good trade may be anticipated until October, when the Australian produce comes along. Butter would have dropped in any case at this time of year, but not to such an extent as has recently been the case.

It is stated that some farmers, rather than accept current rates, have been turning the milk on to the grass.

MARGARINE AND BACON.

The margarine industry, though doing well, has a strong rival in the Dutch product, which is being pushed with much vigour; but, with the loyal support of those who want to support an Irish industry, it should hold its own.

Though so many markets were cut off, the local bacon-curing industry did not suffer so severely as those in Waterford and Limerick. There has been no difficulty in getting supplies of pigs in Cork, and trade has been steady, with fair prices.

There has been so much seizing of goods generally, and sometimes without the promise of payment, that many merchants have allowed their stocks to go down, simply carrying on from hand to mouth. This has led to much unemployment. Manufacturers, not meeting with any cash inquiry, are reducing their staffs, and in some cases closing their establishments altogether. A huge addition to the list of unemployed will be the result. One authority estimates that 40 per cent. of the city's population is without work, and that many are on the brink of starvation. This authority expressed the view that food supplies were not over-abundant in the city, and he feared the consequences if further large demands were made on its resources.

The last available weekly return of unemployed in Cork city and county shows the total to be in round numbers about 12,000. For the city alone the figures stood at 6,250, and it is expected that 1,200 more will be added to this figure during the next two weeks. These figures are based on official returns, and include only persons entitled to benefit from the Ministry of Labour. The number of workers outside the scheme who seek employment is enormous, and brings the total out of work up to 40 per cent. of the population.

WAGES PROBLEM.

This problem naturally brings up the question of wages. A number of large employers declared that the rates of wages paid in some industries are higher than in Belfast and elsewhere. The building trade was cited as an example. In this connection it may be mentioned that labour representatives are pressing for rebuilding operations on the areas where temporary structures now stand, so as to give employment. As one business man put it: "They want to disemploy one set of people in order to give employment to another, and, again, even if we did start rebuilding we would have no guarantee that any new building would long remain intact under present conditions."

By seizing the Custom House, and subsequently the Income Tax office, the irregulars obtained command of all the moneys collected through these agencies, amounting, at a rough estimate, to £50,000 or more. There were no banks in the City of Cork raided, and the story of the seizure of £200,000 which was published recently is stated to be absolutely untrue.

What really happened was that customs and other moneys were put to the credit of an irregular account in certain banks. These are being drawn upon as required. Everything now needed from traders is being paid for from this source. It is felt that the reported seizure of money at the banks has injured the credit of Cork, and there is a strong desire that the truth should be known.

Another point arises. Unless business communication is restored speedily the branch offices of the Dublin banks will run out of money. Some are conserving their supply by urging the more general use of cheques instead of cash at places such as markets and fairs, where large sums are required, and in this way a crisis may be averted.

NO NEED FOR ALARM.

Further inquiry as to the local food problem shows that the situation gives no cause for immediate alarm. A shortage may be caused if people persist in getting a month's supply when a week's would do. Otherwise there is no immediate danger. Dublin newspapers sent by post reached here to-day—the first received since the 28th June.

On Saturday the main line trains from Cork reached Limerick Junction. This morning they did not go beyond Charleville. Passengers for Dublin, therefore, had to go by Fishguard and up country to Holyhead or Liverpool. Even if the line to Limerick Junction had been open it was problematical if anyone would have risked the journey to Thurles by roads which are probably trenched and mined, besides being otherwise obstructed.

On Friday I made an effort to return by road to Wexford, but luck was against me. No one was willing to cross the country from Dungarvan, because the irregulars had evacuated Waterford, and the risks of being sniped at en route had increased.

In the meantime reinforcements of the irregulars retreating from Limerick have concentrated between Fermoy and Waterford. The rails between Kilmacthomas and Kilmeaden—the latter station a few miles from Waterford—have been torn up, and, judging from the irregular activity, there would seem to be a big battle impending.

The intention of the irregulars, apparently, is to contest every step of the way with Fermoy.

It is reported that Mr. de Valera is there. When large bodies of irregulars come on the scene they are billeted on the inhabitants, and local shopkeepers are obliged to provide them with what they want. As most of the people are in favour of the Treaty, they do not like doing it, but in the circumstances they must simply grin and bear it.

INSURANCE.

Business people here are taking the precaution of insuring against war risk, and are storing away whatever they possibly can. There is great anxiety lest the fighting should extend to the city. One of two things may happen. A decisive battle may be fought between Waterford and Dungarvan, or, as the irregulars hope, the delegates sent to Dublin yesterday may succeed in getting the Speaker to summon the Dail so that steps may be taken to end the state of civil war.

A rumour is current that Cork Military Barracks will be destroyed, as a large force would be required to hold it. It is also reported that national troops are near Buttevant, but there is no definite news.

STRIKE DANGER IN U.S.

COAL SUPPLIES FROM BRITAIN.

GOVERNMENT'S PLANS.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday.

The Government's emergency programme for coal control will begin to function within forty-eight hours. Mr. Hoover declares that the Government has exhausted every means towards a settlement, and has offered arbitration, which has been refused.

The Secretary for Commerce, in the course of a statement, lays stress on the intention of the Government to prevent an advance in coal prices, and declares that under the emergency programme no freight cars will be allocated to those who try to rob the public.

BIG ORDERS AT CARDIFF.

PRICE ADVANCES BY FOUR SHILLINGS.

Inquiries at Newport (Mon.) yesterday showed that large orders have been placed by America for Monmouthshire coal, with the result that prices have advanced 4s. a ton.

Great activity continued on the Cardiff Coal Exchange yesterday, and the best Admiralties were marked up to 30s. per ton, f.o.b., representing an increase of 5s. 6d. on the prices which obtained a week ago.

In addition to the American requirements, there are also inquiries from the Continent. There is, however, little free coal on the market, and the collieries are fully booked up over August.

The American demand promises a relief of the acute situation in the South Wales coalfield.

The buoyancy of the coal market was reflected on the Cardiff Stock Exchange in a general advance in Colliery Shares.

IRISH PARLIAMENT.

POSTPONEMENT PROBABLE.

By an order signed by leading members of the Government the meeting of the Irish Parliament, which was to have been held on 15th July, was postponed till next Saturday, 29th July. That order, which was published on July 13th, stated:—

"Parliament will stand prorogued for a further period of fourteen days, while a great number of its members are actively engaged in restoring public order and while difficulties in the way of a free and full assembly of the representatives of the nation are being removed by the valour of the people's Army."

The circumstances which brought about the postponement can hardly be said to have much improved, and it is almost certain, though up to the present no authoritative statement has been issued, that the meeting of Parliament, fixed for next Saturday, will be further postponed.

ON THE COAST.

POST OFFICES ROBBED.

The post offices at Newtownmountkennedy and Enniskerry were robbed yesterday afternoon. The raiders escaped in motor cars. Word was sent to the national forces in Bray, and an attempt was made to overtake the thieves, but the military lost trace of them at Stepaside.

An attack was made on the Carlisle Pier, Kingstown, at about midnight on Monday. There was some firing on both sides, which began just as the last train from Dublin arrived. The attackers quickly made off. One of them appears to have been wounded, as, with daylight, a large pool of blood was discovered in the street.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY.

"DEAD" SOLDIER RETURNS HOME.

The supposed remains of Private M. Bradley, who was reported killed at Limerick, were taken to Ballinasloe for interment. The parents, on examining the remains, were not satisfied as to their identity, and had inquiries made in Galway, where he was last seen. In the meantime prayers were offered in the churches for the dead soldier, and the remains were interred by the Bradley family, a full military funeral being accorded.

When the funeral was over, and the people had returned from the burial ground, however, the real Private Bradley arrived home from Galway in a motor car to the great joy of his parents and relatives.

NATIONAL SOLDIERS BURIED.

The funeral of three soldiers of the national army—Private John J. Martin, B Company, 2nd Battalion, 1st Dublin Brigade; Volunteer Thomas O'Connor, Beggar's Bush, and Company Sergeant-Major Finlay-Philip—took place, with military honours, to Glasnevin Cemetery yesterday. The procession became joint at St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, Berkeley road, where the remains of Private Martin had lain overnight. The coffins were covered with green, white and yellow flags, and with numerous wreaths from relatives, comrades, and friends, and the attendance of mourners and of the general public was large. The pipers' band of the Guards, Beggar's Bush, played a dirge as the procession, which included a firing party, with arms reversed, under the command of Lieutenant Lopeman, walked to the cemetery. The remains were received at the Mortuary Chapel by the Rev. F. Fitzgibbon, who conducted a short Service, after which they were taken to the South side of the cemetery, close to the Republican plot, and interred in one grave there.

FATAL ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE.

Edward Boylan, a creamery manager at Laragh, Co. Cavan, died yesterday, as a result of wounds, at the Military Hospital, Clones. He was arrested in a "round-up" by national forces on the 16th inst., and was shot in the thigh while attempting to escape from Cavan Military Barracks. Boylan tried to escape when the garrison was at dinner. He knocked down a sentry, and attempted to deprive him of his rifle. An officer, hearing the scuffle, came on the scene, and fired over Boylan's head. This did not deter the latter, who still persisted in his escape, and he was then wounded by another shot.

CONSPIRACY TO BURN.

Three youths, named Patrick O'Neill, John Flanagan, and Felix M'Aleese, were found guilty of conspiring to burn, and having in their possession bottles of paraffin, paper, and candles. Another youth, named Henry Scott, was found not guilty and discharged.

His lordship agreed to state a case upon the indictment for the Court of Crown Cases Reserved.

THE EMBARGO.

EFFECT OF REMOVAL ON IRELAND.

IRISH FARMERS' POSITION.

AUTUMN LEGISLATION IN ENGLAND.

A good deal of misgiving was expressed in Dublin yesterday with reference to the vote of the House of Commons on Monday night in favour of the removal of the embargo on the importation of Canadian cattle into Great Britain.

Although the removal of the embargo would primarily affect the agricultural industry in this country, it would inevitably react upon all sections of the community. In some quarters this latest development in connection with Irish agriculture is regarded as being paralleled only by the repeal of the Corn Laws in the "'forties" of the last century, which resulted in such widespread havoc in rural Ireland, and led to the destruction of the wheat-growing and milling industries.

FARMERS' OPINION.

Mr. T. O'Hanlon, General Secretary of the Irish Farmers' Union, Dublin, in an interview with our representative yesterday, said:—

"Another blow was aimed at the long-suffering Irish farmers in the British House of Commons on Monday, when a resolution was carried to the effect that the time had arrived for the removal of the embargo on the importation of Canadian cattle into Great Britain.

"Everything that could be done to prevent the raising of the embargo was done, but all, apparently, to no effect. The 'cheap food' cry swept aside economic considerations, and agriculturists were sacrificed to the ferocity of certain English newspaper proprietors and the butchers. It would be less galling if it could be shown that a pledge was really given in 1917 by Mr. Prothero that Canadian cattle should be admitted, and if it could be proved that the admission of Canadian cattle would really result in cheapening the price of meat to any appreciable degree. Under the circumstances it is more than likely that the vote will be accepted, in the light of Captain Dixon's utterances in the debate in the British House of Commons, as being largely the result of the campaign for getting back at the farmers in the South and West of Ireland.

"The fullest capital was made out of the so-called 'pledge to Canada,' but the pledge of the British Government to Irish farmers in connection with the Wyndham Act, which has a definite bearing on this question, was conveniently overlooked.

"Anyhow, the matter was one for the British Parliament, and, while we see that the decision will adversely affect the agricultural industry, we cannot admit that it will strangle the economic life of this country. Farming, no doubt, is in a terribly bad way, but if our internal differences could be adjusted the Canadian cattle difficulty would not prove insuperable. It will, no doubt, necessitate a big change in our system of farming, but that can and must be made."

BILL TO BE INTRODUCED.

The Press Association understands that a bill will be introduced by the Government in the autumn session of Parliament to give effect to Monday night's vote in favour of the removal of the embargo on Canadian store cattle.

Mr. Chamberlain yesterday said that he had not had the opportunity of consulting other members of the Government on the subject, but he did not think that there was any prospect of a bill being passed this session carrying out the decision of the House the previous evening on the subject of the importation of Canadian cattle.

CANADIAN OPINION.

OTTAWA, Tuesday.

The Government officials associated with the movement for the removal of the cattle embargo regard the definite pronouncement of the British House of Commons yesterday as a forward step in support of Canada's case; but express apprehension that the Bill to be submitted will embody conditions of an embarrassing character. In this connection they cite the proposal made in the House of Lords that store cattle should be subjected to a fortnight's quarantine.

RAILWAY LINE DAMAGED.

The railway line at Ballymoe Station, four miles from Castlerea, was torn up on Monday night, and a number of rails were removed. The 9.10 passenger train yesterday morning had a narrow escape from being derailed. After some hours' delay a relay gang had the line repaired, and traffic was resumed.

GREAT TRANSFORMATION.

The transformation that has taken place in the life of Ballyhaunis and district since the liberation of this centre by the entry of the national troops on Saturday night is remarkable. Yesterday was market day, and business was brisk on all sides. The people are still jubilant, and continue to celebrate their relief from the tyranny under which they were being crushed during the occupation of the place by the irregulars.

A passenger train arrived yesterday morning, the first for a month, bringing the Dublin papers, which were eagerly purchased and read by enthusiastic groups. Some mails also arrived, but the big supply of arrears is expected from Roscommon at any time now.

Eggs, which could be purchased a week ago for 3s. per 120, realised 16s. and 17s. yesterday.

TULLAMORE.

The irregulars retreated from Tullamore hurriedly when the encircling movement by the national troops began. They are said to have divided up into small bands and to have quartered themselves on the farmers in the district. During the occupation of Tullamore they seized goods of all kinds, and the loss to Tullamore shopkeepers amounts to an enormous sum.

For a few days before they left the irregulars had been making what appeared to be preparations for a fight. Mines were said to have been laid, the County Jail, which they occupied, was sand-bagged in front, and at the old R.I.C. barracks warlike preparations were carried on. But, contrary to expectations, they made their exit hurriedly and without firing a shot, leaving behind them the smouldering ruins of the public buildings.

DISTRESS IN MAYO.

Owing to representations made to Dail Eireann by Messrs. J. McGrath, Inspector, Local Government Department, and M. J. Egan, Secretary of the County Council, it is understood that a sum of £15,000, which has been allocated for the relief of distress in County Mayo, will be made available immediately. Messrs. McGrath and Egan visited the Ministry of Local Government on Monday.

RAID ON RAILWAY STATION.

At about one o'clock on Saturday morning a number of armed men entered the Cloughjordan Railway Station, and compelled the stationmaster to hand over the keys of the goods store, which they raided. It is not yet known what was carried away. On hearing of the occurrence a number of soldiers left for the scene of the robbery.

RAIDERS SURPRISED.

There was some shooting at Bundoran, Co. Donegal, on Sunday night. It appears that a small party of irregulars entered the west end of the town with the object of carrying off bed-clothing and food, when they were surprised by national troops, who opened fire. The irregulars replied, but after a short engagement were beaten off. There were no casualties on either side.

INSISTENCE ON RIGHTS.

CRITICAL SITUATION IN BAVARIA.

GERMAN CABINET TO MEET TO-DAY.

Bavaria's insistence on her rights as an independent State has caused a serious situation in Germany.

The Vorwärts yesterday published a report to the effect that all the trains from Bavaria were crowded with tourists, who were fleeing from the possible danger of internal disturbances. The paper added that hotel bookings for August were already being cancelled.

In a collision between Communists and students at Klausenthal, one of the Communists was shot and mortally wounded by a student. The crowd lynched the student, who was removed to hospital in a dying condition. A further collision occurred later, as a result of which two students had to be taken to hospital.

The Bavarian Government's insistence on Bavaria's special rights, culminating in an announcement that she cannot accept the law for the defence of the Republic, has caused alarm not only in Berlin, but also in Northern Bavaria. Twenty-one North Bavarian Burgomasters have sent a telegram to the Government begging them to do nothing to imperil Bavaria's remaining a component part of the Reich. The Bavarian Socialists have issued a manifesto declaring that every attempt to counteract the Reichstag's legislation for the defence of the Republic is an attack against the political unity of the Reich.

The Berlin newspapers state that the Bavarian Government has entered on a dangerous path, which will lead to the disintegration of the Reich and civil war.

The Cabinet meets to-day to consider the situation. The President may annul the Bavarian decree, or it may be referred to the Supreme Court.—(Reuter.)

REPARATIONS PROBLEM.

REPLY TO FRENCH PREMIER.

Reuter's Agency learns that the Earl of Balfour is sending through the French Ambassador in London a communication to M. Poincaré to the effect that His Majesty's Government will be delighted to see him in London next week.

Attention is, however, drawn to the political crisis in Italy, which makes it uncertain whether the Italians will be able to send a representative at so early a date.

The French Premier intends to discuss with the Government the twin problems of German reparations and European Inter-Allied indebtedness.

STATEMENT IN PARLIAMENT.

Lieutenant-Commander Kenworthy, in the House of Commons yesterday, asked if there would be any authoritative statement before the House rose on the subject of reparations from Germany and the collapse of the mark.

Mr. Chamberlain said that he was inclined to doubt whether in the present state of affairs the Government could usefully add anything to the statements they had already made on the subject of reparations. It was a matter for joint action by the Powers. He took note, however, of the intention to raise the subject on the Appropriation Bill.

Lord Robert Cecil urged the importance of a Government statement on the subject of Reparations before the House rose. He said that the question formed the basis of the whole international position to-day, and some settlement of it must be found.

Mr. Chamberlain agreed as to the importance of the subject of Reparations, and the international indebtedness arising out of the war, but the co-operation of others must be secured. Whether it would be possible to make a statement in advance of the Conference of Allied Ministers that was to be held, he could not say.

FRENCH OPINION.

PARIS, Tuesday.

The majority of the newspapers to-day express the opinion that the exchange of views between Britain and France should take place at the earliest possible moment. The Petit Journal considers it impossible to defer the meeting, pending the settlement of the Italian Cabinet crisis, while Le Journal considers the present state of public opinion propitious for fruitful accord.—(Reuter.)

DUNKIRK WAR MEMORIAL.

FOUNDATION STONE LAID BY DUKE OF YORK.

DUNKIRK, Tuesday.

The Rivura, with the War Memorial Committee, headed by the Earl of Athlone, President, entered the harbour at one o'clock, and an hour later the Duke of York landed from H.M.S. Versatile. A company of infantry was drawn up at the landing stage, and a band played "God Save the King" and "The Marseillaise."

On arriving at the site of the memorial buildings the Earl of Athlone made a speech, explaining the object of the memorial.

The Duke of York, in replying, referred to the war memories of Dunkirk, which British and French shared. He expressed the wish that the memorial would perpetuate the courage and tenacity of the townsfolk of Dunkirk, who were so cruelly tried during the war. After mentioning the services rendered to the Allies during the war by the heroism of men of the British merchant service, His Royal Highness congratulated the members of the Memorial Committee on the success of their project.

The Bishop having blessed the foundation stone, the Duke then laid it.

The British colony in Dunkirk was afterwards presented to His Royal Highness, who then proceeded to the Town Hall, meeting with a most enthusiastic reception from the people on his way there.

At the Town Hall the Mayor thanked the Duke of York for his presence, and for having decorated the town with the Distinguished Service Cross. The Mayor spoke of the siege of Dunkirk by a former Duke of York in 1793, and the valour both of the besieged and the besiegers, and then recalled more recent happenings which had turned the old enemies of France into her Allies.

The Duke of York, in reply, expressed his thanks for the cordial reception that he had received, and, referring to the old enmity between Britain and France, said—"Thank God all that is ended, and I am proud to thank you for the welcome you have given me to-day in a more enlightened age."

GREAT STEAMING BY THE MAURETANIA.

The Mauretania, of the Cunard Line, which arrived at Southampton on Monday morning, completed the fastest passage from New York since the war. The distance across the Atlantic is just over 3,200 miles, and, although this last voyage is a record, it occupied only two minutes longer than the previous one. The remarkable regularity of the time taken by this great ship in steaming the Atlantic is unrivalled by a railway train. There has not been more than five minutes' difference in the last three trips. The times are—From New York, July 18, 5 days 8 hours 9 minutes, average speed 25.26. June 27, 5 days 8 hours 11 minutes, average speed 25.29. June 6, 5 days 8 hours 14 minutes, average speed 25.29.

On four days during the last voyage the passengers had the unique experience of seeing the ship cut her way through numerous shoals of flying fish. As the sharp stem of the Mauretania struck the shoals the huge bow wave was a glittering mass of struggling fish.

DUNDALK BANK ROBBERIES.

It is learned that the amount involved in the bank robberies at Dundalk on Saturday is larger than was estimated at first. The amount is now stated to be £2,500. Of this sum about £1,500 represents the money taken from the Bank of Ireland, though the agent declines to give any figure.

A HIDDEN MINE.

While a farmer named William Dunne was attempting to pass a tree which blocked the road at Cloney, Queen's County, he touched a branch, and immediately a hidden mine was exploded. He was severely injured.

ATTACK NEAR THURLES.

Six national soldiers yesterday morning were patrolling the Horse and Jockey district, where they were fired upon by a body of irregulars, numbering about 35. After an engagement of fifteen minutes the irregulars retreated, and went towards Killenaule. There were no casualties. A man named McDonagh, of Carrick-on-Suir, was in charge of the irregulars.

FROM TO-DAY'S LONDON PAPERS.

BRITAIN'S DEBT.

THE MISSION TO WASHINGTON.

"THE TIMES" OF TO-DAY SAYS:—

It is now understood that the British Mission to consider the question of the debt owed by this country to the United States will arrive in Washington towards the end of September, as Mr. Hughes, the Secretary of State, is going to Rio de Janeiro for the Brazilian centenary celebrations, and various other members of the United States Commission will not be in Washington until then.

THE GERMAN DILEMMA.

CONFLICT WITH BAVARIA.

The Times, in a leading article upon the internal conflict in Germany between the Central Government and Bavaria, observes:—For the present, however, the chief symptom to be noted is that there is a popular movement of considerable strength for the defence and maintenance of the Republic against the reactionary movement that would undermine it, and would revive the mentality of the Bismarck era. We think it is necessary to emphasise this symptom as a sign of a gradual change of heart in Germany. The motives that impel different groups to defend the Republic are many and various. They do, however, coalesce in a conviction that for the present the Republic is a vital necessity for Germany.

For this country and for our Allies that is a hopeful sign, since it suggests a development away from the temper that provoked the ruinous war, from the effects of which all the world is suffering. Now, in this process of what may be described as a gradual return towards sanity, there has come a new jolt, a sudden interruption. Bavaria resents the new emergency law, and has decided to oppose it by all constitutional means. This is a curious conflict. It would appear that the struggle between reaction and progress in Germany may develop, in part at least, into a struggle for the principle of German unity. The Bismarckian conception of a unity achieved by "blood and iron," by attacks on foreign peoples, has been badly shaken by the great war and the great defeat.

It is possible that the moment has come for the reconstitution of Germany on those more liberal principles of unity towards which the German States were groping before Bismarck secured his ascendancy. The present curious conflict with Bavaria may mark a stage in such a process. In any case, while there are grounds for hope, it is necessary to watch the extraordinary shifting situation in Germany with the greatest care.

A PROPHET OF WOE.

AMERICAN GEOLOGIST'S PREDICTION.

Dr. M. A. Nobles, a well-known Philadelphia geologist, declares that within thirty days Europe, Northern Africa, and the whole of Asia will be destroyed by earthquakes and their populations wiped out, telegraphs The Times New York Correspondent. The doctor, who has made a special study of volcanoes, states that trouble is brewing among seventy volcanoes in the neighbourhood of Budapest.

He recalls that when the famous Hecla eruption occurred in 1784 enough lava was emitted to girdle the earth with a stream ten feet deep and two hundred feet wide. This, he says, gives an idea of the forces hidden beneath the earth's surface, which his studies convince him are now on the point of breaking forth.

THE CATTLE EMBARGO.

The Daily News, in a leading article, says:—In deciding to honour the pledge with Canada, Parliament has saved the country from an unpleasant stigma and a possibly serious quarrel with the Canadian Government. The Lords, it is now suggested, will throw out the Anti-Embargo Bill when, in due course, it comes before them. If the Lower House holds firm, however, their capacity for mischief will be limited to giving a characteristic touch of gracelessness to the final stages of this belated act of reparation.

The Daily Express remarks:—Mr. Chamberlain, "speaking personally," told the Commons yesterday that he sees no prospect for the passage of a bill removing the Canadian cattle embargo during this year. Although Mr. Chamberlain said the Government has not yet considered the vote against the embargo, we must assume that his statement represents Government policy. It means, in all likelihood, that the embargo will not be ended during the lifetime of the present Parliament. The plea that excess of business and paucity of time will make impossible the introduction of a bill was, perhaps, inevitable.

The Morning Post observes:—We hope we may be allowed to congratulate the Government on the heroic stand they made upon both sides of the Canadian cattle question. It is the sort of feat that only a Coalition could perform. While Mr. Churchill defended the Canadian cause, Sir Arthur Boscawen fought for the British farmer. This vote—this death-blow to the Irish cattle trade, as it may be—was carried by 76 votes.

For our part, we foresee very serious difficulties if the British Government try to frame a bill on the House of Commons vote. We yield to none in our regard for the interests of the British Empire, but we do not see how they are to be furthered by making the interest of one part the injury of another.

FLAX CROP.

DEPARTMENT'S FIELD TRIALS.

In continuation of their experiments and investigations in relation to the cultivation of flax, the Irish Department of Agriculture are this year carrying out field trials at ten centres in Southern Ireland, with a view to testing further the merits of different varieties of commercial flax seed.

The trials are being conducted in the neighbourhood of the following towns:—Castleblayney, Monaghan, Cootehill, Ballyshannon, Letterkenny, Castlefin, Easkey, Kilglass, Rosscarbery, and Dunmanway.

The following commercial varieties of flax are being compared with each other, and with the Department's pure line flax seed, Nos. 3 and 5, respectively: Dutch, English, Russian, and Canadian. The plots received a manurial dressing at the rate of 1½ cwts. of muriate of potash and ½ cwt. sulphate of ammonia per statute acre. For the purpose of a manurial trial an additional plot, unmanured, was sown with Dutch seed.

In addition to these flax variety trials, the Department has arranged for the laying down of demonstration plots with their pure line flax seed, Nos. 3 and 5, for the purpose of bringing these varieties under the notice of flax growers, and showing in a practical manner the superior crops that may be obtained from pure line flax seed. Plots sown with the Department's pure line flax seed, Nos. 3 and 5, respectively, have been laid down alongside plots sown with commercial varieties of seed, and to which similar manurial dressings have been applied. Plots of this nature have been laid down in proximity to Stradone (Co. Cavan), Rosscarbery and Clonakilty (Co. Cork), Letterkenny and Raphoe (Co. Donegal), and Rathlee (Co. Sligo).

The report on the work of the Department's Seed Propagation Division for the year 1921, which has been recently published in the Department's Journal, Vol. XXI., No. 4, contains particulars of the pure lines of flax seed which are being propagated by the Department. Copies of the report are obtainable, free of charge, on application to the Department.

The results of these experiments and demonstrations should be of valuable assistance to flax-growers in helping them to decide which variety of flax seed is likely to be the more profitable for them to sow. They should, therefore, arrange to visit the plots in their district, and see the comparative merits of the varieties of seed sown. The Department will be pleased to furnish, on application, the addresses of the farms on which the experiments and demonstrations are being carried out.

BRAIN SURGER

MEN OF SCIENCE AN THE MOUSE.

A VIEW OF DEATH.

THE WIDER FIELD.

"Brain surgery" was the subject of the presidential address delivered by Sir William MacEwen last night at the annual meeting of the British Medical Association at Glasgow.

Sir William opened with a compliment to the Corporation of Glasgow, who, he said, had blessed the city with a fine water supply and excellent sanitary conditions, enteric fever having now no home in Glasgow. If the purity of the atmosphere was not all that it should be there were those among the Corporation who were zealously searching for practical means of attaining that end.

The British Medical Association, he claimed, was, without exception, the largest professional association of the Empire, and carried out the principle of voluntary combination for the consideration not only of its own affairs, but also the readjustment of objects which were humane and public-spirited. It had also been the means of disseminating all that pertained to the science and art of medicine. He welcomed to the Conference many distinguished Colonials and representatives from overseas, and said that they were pleased to have associated with them some of their American brothers, who were to aid them by fresh views on many topics of professional and social interest.

Proceeding, Sir William asked whether they did not concentrate their studies too much on human phenomena, to the exclusion of life as a whole. Our so-called divisions of nature were purely arbitrary conveniences, having no existence except in our minds. In the material world there was neither break nor pause. In a sense, all matter was living, and the term death was a mere expression significant of transference to fresh forms of life.

We were but a bit of nature, and everything pertaining thereto must have a bearing on humanity. Comparative anatomy and physiology, much as they had been studied, still presented many fields which had not been traversed, and from which a discerning eye might reap an abundant harvest. It was not necessary to go far afield to begin such study.

MICE AND DISEASE.

The ubiquitous mouse was a carrier of disease. But what were its pathological records? Was it subject to contagious diseases, and, if so, how did it disseminate them? For the protection of humanity, apart from the intrinsic interest of the study, the mouse and its ways were worthy of the searchlight of scientific investigation. Microbiology was only in its infancy. There were myriads of germs surrounding us of which we knew little, and the study of which offered fruitful fields for scientific research.

Our habits of thought were so interwoven that speculative or scientific inquiry introduced into one field influenced and affected other fields of cognate thought. It was, he recalled, research into fermentation of the juice of the grape, investigated for utilitarian purposes by the wine-growers of France, that led to the introduction of the anti-septic system of the treatment of wounds. While conducting, in a chemical laboratory, an abstract research into the properties of nitrous oxide gas, it was the coincidence of toothache in the person of the investigator that led Humphry Davy to the discovery of general anaesthesia, which he advised for the prevention of pain during surgical operations. Though this discovery was published broadcast, so irreceptive were the people of the period, especially the members of the medical profession, that for forty years that great discovery remained dormant, neglected, and unused.

"The latter," said Sir William, "is but an illustration of many discoveries made by our own people, which, after announcement, have fallen on deaf ears, and have not been used until other nations have heard of them, and have discerned their potentialities and turned them to practical account. Is this one of our national defects or diseases? Does it arise from want of scientific training, or habits of thought among the people? Whatever it is, like our diseases it is very costly. The nation not only loses prestige, but in one noted instance—the neglect of the utilisation of the discovery of the basic salts—the nation has lost many millions a year. Had we utilised it, and all that followed therefrom, in extended chemical research, we should have been better prepared for the great war, and it would have aided greatly our economic position to-day."

Sir William said that syphilis and tubercle were both germ diseases which were still prevalent, and sapped the strength of the people. He asked whether everything was being done that ought to be done to stop their ravages. Now that the Government and the laity had been educated by the medical profession to the fact that syphilis was a preventable germ-disease, and could be stamped out by means known to them, if this generation did not stop the disease it would commit a crime against posterity.

BRAIN FUNCTION.

Speaking at some length on the evolution of the knowledge of brain function, the President said that in his student days physiologists taught that the brain acted as a whole, without recognition of localised areas within it, endowed with specialised function. After dealing in a highly technical way with various forms of brain disease, Sir William said that, doubtless, the dome of thought ought to be left inviolate. It was built in that way, but occasionally rude traumatisms and peccant matter invaded the sanctuary, and had to be followed and removed.

It had been said that the brain stood much handling, but one could not open the skull and rummage until the object was found. The accuracy of diagnosis was of paramount importance. The more one saw of the intricate, delicate structure the greater the reverence one entertained for it, and the less one was inclined to disturb its arrangements or to interfere with its functions. When it did require to be touched it ought to be with the greatest gentleness, by an acutely sensitive finger, carefully trained and guided by the blessed gift of memory, of tactile sensations, to which each new impression might be quickly related, grouped and correlated in ordered sequence.

Cerebral surgery had been the means of adding to and confirming the knowledge of brain function in man. Surgery of the brain had its limits, but these had not been reached. It had been the means of saving many lives, and by removing the "blot" upon the brain had brightened existence.

"THE ONLY WAY."

GERMAN OFFICER'S SUICIDE.

BERLIN, Tuesday.

At about 10 o'clock last night ex-Lieutenant Baron Von Stillfried was found shot dead in the house of ex-Major Von Borcke, in Schoeneberg. Baron Von Stillfried had, it appears, fallen in love with the wife of Major Von Borcke. The three parties met at the Major's house to discuss the position. After the conversation had lasted a considerable time it was continued in another room by Baron Von Stillfried and Frau Von Borcke. The latter's husband finally entered the room and, handing a revolver to his rival, told him that he expected him to act in the only way possible to a man of honour, and he would give him ten minutes in which to decide. Before the ten minutes had elapsed, Von Stillfried shot himself.—(Reuter.)

RIOTERS DISPERSED.

EXPLOSION IN BELFAST.

Rioters who fired on one another at Springfield dam, Belfast, were dispersed by the police. No one was injured.

An explosion occurred near the Ministry of Labour, Upper Queen street, Belfast, at 7 o'clock yesterday morning. No injury was done. Great police activity followed.

The premises of Stephen Cushenan, Pilot street, were completely destroyed by fire on Monday night.

Police and female searchers visited the home of Miss Winifred Carney at Carlisle Circus yesterday, and took Miss Carney away. She is an official of the Irish Transport and General Workers' Union. The Union offices in Corporation street were also raided. No charge, it is understood, has been preferred against Miss Carney.

AMMUNITION IN A STOCKING.

At the Belfast Police Court yesterday Patrick McCaffrey, Little Corporation street, was charged with being in possession of ammunition. A police witness, who was engaged in the searching of the accused man's house, said that 64 rounds of Morris tube ammunition were found in a stocking in the parlour. McCaffrey said that it belonged to the Recreation Club in Little Patrick street. A remand for a week was ordered.

PLAYWRIGHT'S LOSS.

MANUSCRIPT BURNED IN FOUR COURTS.

NEW CLAIMS LODGED.

Among the claims for compensation which were lodged yesterday for loss and damage arising out of the recent fighting in Dublin was one from Mr. J. M. Muldoon for £40 for the manuscript of the play in three acts entitled "The Playwright," which was contained in the locker of the Law Library at the Four Courts.

The Hon. Treasurer reported the following payments:—Dublin City, £100; Office and County, £150; Clothing Branch, £25.

YOUNG SOLDIER SHOT.

DEATH WOUND IN A DUBLIN STREET.

The death of Private Thomas O'Hara, of the national army, who was shot in Abbey street, Dublin, on 22nd July, was investigated by Dr. Maughan, Deputy Coroner, and a jury at Jervis street Hospital yesterday.

The medical evidence was to the effect that O'Hara died from shock and hemorrhage following a bullet wound received in the abdomen.

Private John Cooke deposed that on the evening of the 22nd he left Thompson's garage, where he was stationed, with Private O'Hara. They went towards the Butt Bar, where they heard two shots. When they entered he saw a man, whom he afterwards learned was Private Byrne, B Company, 2nd Battalion, with a revolver in his hand. Byrne was drunk, and was brandishing the weapon. After some time the witness induced him to put away the revolver and to leave the premises. When he got outside Byrne ran down a lane at the back of Liberty Hall, and said that he was going back to barracks. The witness and his companion then went up Abbey street, where they again saw Byrne with the revolver in his hand. The witness told his companion to stand in a doorway and not to take any notice of Byrne, as the latter might fire. They both stood in the doorway, and when Byrne saw them he came up. He covered the witness with the revolver and asked him who he was. The witness told him to put up the gun. Byrne was trying to "cock" the revolver, and the witness grabbed it with his left hand, and also caught Byrne's right arm. In the scuffle a shot went off, and O'Hara said "I'm shot." The witness called a police constable to hold Byrne while he called the ambulance. Later two other soldiers came on the scene and took Byrne into custody.

Answering the Coroner, the witness said that, although he knew that Byrne was drunk and had a revolver on the first occasion that he met him that evening, he did not arrest him, as he trusted Byrne's word that he was going to barracks.

Police (Military) Officer Scannell deposed that O'Hara told him that the "red-haired chap" (Byrne) had shot him. When the witness searched Byrne he found an official pass on him belonging to another man.

Brigadier-General O'Daly, O.C. Dublin Guards, Beggar's Bush, said that, according to the standing orders, no non-commissioned officer or man of the Guard was to carry small arms except on duty. As regards drunkenness, any member of the Guard found under the influence of drink while armed would be immediately placed under arrest and courtmartialled. The minimum sentence for such an offence would be dismissal from the Army. Private O'Hara had died in the execution of his duty while trying to disarm a man who he knew had no right to be armed. O'Hara had a brilliant military record, and was a man who would never shirk his duty. The pass which was found on Byrne was not issued by the barracks to which Byrne belonged.

The jury found that Private O'Hara died from shock and hemorrhage following a bullet wound in the stomach, and that the bullet was fired accidentally by Private Byrne while under the influence of drink, Byrne being illegally in possession of a revolver.

They also found that O'Hara died in the execution of his duty, and commended Private Cooke for his conduct on the occasion.

Lieutenant Kennedy expressed the sympathy of the members of the transport section of Thompson's garage with the relatives of the deceased man.

HOUSE REPAIRS.

A LANDLORD'S CLAIM.

At a Republican Parish Court in Rathmines last night, Patrick J. Geoghegan sued James Daly, 94 Alexandra terrace, South Lotts road, for £9 11s. 0d., being half of the expenses incurred in repairing the roof of premises occupied by the defendant at Erne street.

It appeared that the plaintiff had sued the defendant at a Parish Court on November 3 last for rent and repairs, and the Court decided that the repairs should be done by the plaintiff, and that the defendant should pay half the costs.

The plaintiff now produced vouchers for all the necessary expenditure, which amounted to £19 2s. 0d., and he claimed for the half of this amount.

The Court made a decree for the amount claimed, and, with the plaintiff's consent, the corrugated sheets of the old roof was given to the defendant.

Mr. J. A. Long (Long and O hUadhaigh, solicitors) appeared for the plaintiff.

WILFUL MURDER

JURY'S FINDING IN KNOCKMAROON CASES.

Further details concerning the raid by armed robbers on the public-house known as the Anglers' Hotel, at Knockmaroon, Co. Dublin, were given at inquests which were held by the City Coroner (Dr. Louis Byrne) on the bodies of Arthur Richardson (36) and John Tobin (25), both of the Strawberry Beds, who lost their lives on Sunday night in offering resistance to the raiders.

Mr. Clarke, Chief Crown Solicitor, appeared for the Dublin Metropolitan Police, and Mr. E. Burne represented the next-of-kin of Richardson. The inquests were held in Steevens's Hospital.

Joseph Richardson, Phibsborough, identified the body of Arthur Richardson as that of his son.

William Kavanagh, owner of the licensed premises at Knockmaroon Hill, stated that at about 11.20 p.m. on July 23 three men, who were armed with revolvers, rushed into his shop and shouted "Hands up!" The deceased men and a man named O'Neill grappled with them. One of the raiders fired two shots, killing Richardson and wounding O'Neill.

Answering Mr. Clarke, the witness said that there were about thirteen persons in the shop. He remembered Tobin leaving the shop immediately after the call of "Hands up." An assistant ran for the police while the men were still in the shop.

To Mr. Burne—The three men were armed. Richardson refused to put his hands up, and said, "Why should I put them up?" He then grappled with the man, who was standing about three feet from the door. There was another of the men standing at the door, and the witness imagined that it was this man who fired the fatal shot. The second shot was fired five or six minutes afterwards. One shot was fired at the floor by the man who stood inside the shop. He heard four shots altogether, and he thought that the whole thing was done by the man at the door.

ENTRY OF THE RAIDERS.

John Hanlon, of Knockmaroon Lodge, deposed that he was employed on that day by Mr. Kavanagh as a door attendant. At about 11.20 that night he was in the act of letting some men out of the premises when a knock came to the door. He opened it, and a man asked to be allowed in for one drink. The man walked over to the bar, and then came back and asked the witness to open the door as he had two friends with him. The witness told him that it was too late. The other two men then came in, but he did not notice if they were armed. One of them ordered him to the back of the room, holding a revolver against his breast, and pushing him along. The witness took shelter behind a box, and while there he heard four shots. When the raiders went away he came out and saw Arthur Richardson and a man named O'Neill lying on the floor. He went to their aid, and afterwards saw them removed to hospital.

Replying to Mr. Burne, he said that he heard no vehicle pass for five minutes before the men came to the door. He did not notice anyone leave while the three men were on the premises.

Joseph Fox, an assistant in the employment of Mr. Kavanagh, said that he was behind the counter when the three men entered. He went to get the money fearing that there was going to be a raid on it. He took out the money, but was ordered to leave it back. He did so, and one of the raiders jumped over the counter and covered him with the revolver. The raider took the money, which amounted to about £60 or £70. The witness then went to the telephone, and got through to the police at Chapelizod. When he came back he saw Richardson dead on the floor and O'Neill seriously wounded. He heard two or three shots while he was at the telephone.

Sergeant Dunworth, D.M.P., deposed that he received a telephone call from Mr. Kavanagh's shop on that night asking for a priest and an ambulance.

Dr. N. Falkiner, house surgeon, gave evidence that Richardson when admitted to the hospital, was suffering from a punctured wound on the chin. Death was due to sudden compression of the spinal cord and hæmorrhage, caused by the bullet wound.

The jury found that death was caused by a gun shot wound, fired by a person or persons unknown—in the opinion of the jury wilful murder.

SHOT OUTSIDE THE HOUSE.

The death of John Tobin was next investigated.

Evidence of identification was given by Michael Judge, 95 Capel street, an uncle of the deceased man.

Michael Kavanagh, the owner of the licensed premises said that he remembered seeing John Tobin in his shop on the night of the raid. He could not say when he left.

Inspector O'Neill, D.M.P., said that in response to a message from the last witness he went with a sergeant towards the house. Thirty yards from the premises, on the Park side, their attention was attracted by something in the water channel, and they found the body of a man lying full length on his right side. The body was not quite cold, and they believed that life was not extinct. Blood was flowing from a wound on the right side of the stomach. They had the body removed in the Corporation ambulance to Steevens's Hospital. The man was wearing bicycle clips; but there was no sign of a bicycle at the place. There were no traces of a struggle.

Dr. Falkiner said that when he examined the body he found a punctured wound just below the margin of the ribs. Death was due to shock and hæmorrhage, the result of a gun shot wound.

The jury returned a similar verdict to that in Richardson's case.

NO ARRESTS.

It was reported yesterday that three men had been arrested in connection with the murders, but on inquiry at Oriel House and in Dublin Metropolitan Police quarters it was learned that there is no truth in the statement.

PRINTING TRADE DISPUTE.

PROGRESS OF THE STRIKE.

In connection with the printers' dispute, the Press Association learned yesterday afternoon that the Printing and Kindred Trades Federation have called a conference of all the affiliated unions affected for Friday next at the Memorial Hall, Farringdon street, London.

Mr. Holmes, its Secretary, stated that the Federation had no desire to take sides, either for or against the Typographical Association, but there were many questions requiring consideration, and it was with the object of attaining a common policy that the conference had been called.

Further complete reports to the Federation of Master Printers yesterday show, states Mr. Goodwin, the Secretary, that in the Yorkshire area 160 firms made the deduction in accordance with the Industrial Court award, and 1,164 men left their employment. In four firms where the deduction was made the men remained at work. In the whole area only five members of the Federation, employing a very small number of men, did not make a deduction.

In the Southern counties there was an acceptance of the reduction particularly among members of the Typographical Association. Mr. Goodwin added that a meeting of the Provincial Daily Newspaper Proprietors was held yesterday in Manchester. It was fully expected that, unless the dispute was settled this week a much larger number of provincial daily papers would suspend publication. One proprietor in the North of England, he concluded, had threatened to close down entirely unless the employés were prepared to return to work immediately.

A Rochdale message reports that the local newspapers usually published on Wednesdays and Saturdays have suspended publication.

Though all the Typographical Association men at the North-Eastern Daily Gazette, Middlesbrough, ceased work on Saturday, a four-page paper was brought out on Monday and a similar issue yesterday.

At Darlington the Linotype operators still continue on strike. During Monday and Tuesday the Northern Echo succeeded, by a process of typewriting and photography, in publishing a combined four-page edition of the Northern Echo and Evening Dispatch.

At a meeting yesterday of the Newcastle and District Master Printers' Association, Mr. Munro Sutherland, of the Newcastle Chronicle, stated that, so far as that newspaper was concerned, the strike was over. Many men had returned, including a picket, and there were more new applications than they could deal with. The new men would be retained.

A meeting of the Typographical Association was held in Manchester yesterday. It is reported that there was no move towards a settlement. 100 provincial newspapers, morning, evening, and weekly, have not reduced their wages.

A ballot is to be taken on the proposal for a levy of 2s. on each 10s. earned by Typographical Association men to keep the Association solvent. It was reported that 716 members, out of a total of 1,400, were out in Manchester. A full statement is expected to-day.

PRESENTATION TO MR. W. J. WHELAN.

Mr. W. J. Whelan, of Mountpleasant avenue, Rathmines, has been the recipient of a presentation from a number of his R.C.S.I. pupils. The presentation took the form of a handsome solid silver cigarette case, suitably engraved. It was presented by a committee of first and second year students.

THE BOTTOMLEY CASE.

ACTION IN COMMONS.

Mr. Chamberlain, in the House of Commons yesterday, moved: "That Mr. Horatio Bottomley do attend this House in his place upon Tuesday next."

In making the motion, he said:—I feel that the House will not require me to make any lengthy statement. I am acting in accordance with what I believe to be the settled procedure of the House in matters of this kind. If this motion is carried I shall at once move that the necessary warrants should be issued to secure the attendance of the hon. member for Hackney, if he desires to attend. The House always makes a motion for attendance; that is in the interest of the member concerned, and to guard against doing him any injustice; but it does not order the authorities in whose custody he is to bring him up to this House unless he wishes to attend the House.

Sir F. Lowe—I wish to ask whether, if the hon. member for Hackney were adjudicated a bankrupt, that would not, ipso facto, vacate his seat, and whether that procedure would not be very much better than asking the hon. member to attend here and moving a motion for his expulsion?

Mr. J. Jones—I would like to ask whether those who have used the hon. member for Hackney as a political tool will also be summoned here to explain their conduct?

Mr. Chamberlain—If any hon. member is made a bankrupt he does not automatically vacate his seat for six months, but I imagine that the House, in accordance with precedents, desires to take this case into early consideration, and I think it is neither appropriate for the House to wait six months nor fair to the constituency which the hon. member represents and is prevented from serving.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. Chamberlain then moved:—"That the Governor of His Majesty's Prison at Wormwood Scrubbs do bring the said Horatio Bottomley in custody to this House on Tuesday next, if the said Horatio Bottomley should desire to be so brought up, and that Mr. Speaker do issue his warrants to the said Governor and to the Serjeant-at-Arms attending this House accordingly."

The motion was carried.

COMPANY MEETINGS.

NEDEEM TEA COMPANY.

The ordinary general meeting of this company was held yesterday at 4 Fenchurch street, London, E.C. Mr. W. L. Thomas, who presided, said that it spoke well for the sound formation of the tea industry that a rapid recovery from the extreme depression of 1920 had been possible. It was greatly to the credit of those controlling the tea-growing interests, that when a crisis came they were able and willing to unite in a policy that had exceeded beyond expectation. The success that had followed this policy so far made one hopeful that it might be possible to continue it for another year, by which time they should, with any luck, be out of the wood. It was still essential that the policy of restriction not only in the crop, but in weekly sales, should be maintained for some time to come. In combination with other large growers, this country agreed last year to work to a reduction of 20 p.c. of the average crop of the years 1915 to 1919. Owing to extremely unfavourable weather, followed by a severe attack of mosquito blight and an unusually early stoppage of the rains, the reduction actually amounted to 44 p.c., making the crop the lowest since 1902. The crop estimate for this year was 6,000,000lbs. Sales in Calcutta had been made at satisfactory prices. A series of bad hail storms at some of the gardens had caused a considerable loss of crop, against which the company had an insurance fund. The report was unanimously adopted.

MARCONI INTERNATIONAL MARINE.

The 22nd ordinary general meeting of the Marconi International Marine Communication Co. was held yesterday at the Connaught Rooms, Great Queen street, Kingsway, W.C., Mr. Godfrey C. Isaacs, Deputy Chairman and Managing Director, presiding in the absence of Senatore G. Marconi. The Chairman, in moving the adoption of the report, in the course of his remarks, said—The net profit for the year, amounting to £118,043, is slightly in excess of that of the preceding year. In all the circumstances this cannot be considered good, but having regard to the extremely difficult year through which we have passed, the great depression prevailing in all trades consequently, and particularly, perhaps, in the shipping trade, I think we must be satisfied. Shareholders will, no doubt, have had their attention drawn to wireless telephony in the form of what is now becoming generally known as "broadcasting." This is a word which has been imported from America; it is not a very elegant one, but it does seem to aptly describe the transmission of music and speech for all within range to receive. The Postmaster-General having given facilities in this country, "broadcasting" is about to be developed in a substantial way, and from what I gather pretty well every other country will follow suit. We may consequently contemplate that telephone receiving sets will be as much in demand at sea as we anticipate they will be on shore. We are now demonstrating wireless telephones on board trawlers, and we believe that telephone sets for inter-trawler communication will prove of great value to the trade, and will be ere long generally adopted. We look to a new source of revenue in this direction. We propose the payment of a final dividend at the rate of 5 p.c., making a total of 10 p.c. for the year. While I quite well recognise that this is 5 p.c. less than was paid for the preceding year, and therefore cannot be received by you with much enthusiasm, I would like to suggest to you that you should not be despondent. The reduced dividend is not a reflection upon the company's business—it is more the reflection of the country's trade. Our business has increased year after year; it increased last year; as trade improves so will the profits derived from our business.

Sir Charles J. Stewart, K.B.E., seconded the motion, which was carried unanimously.

CROSSE AND BLACKWELL.

The second annual general meeting of Crosse and Blackwell was held yesterday, Mr. R. Just Boyd, Chairman, presiding.

The Chairman, in moving the adoption of the report and accounts, said that, although the results of the trading for the year 1921 had been most unfortunate, the period had been most difficult and anxious, not only for the directors of this company, but for many other concerns of equal reputation in the various fields of activity. He was happy, however, to be able to report that in the current year there was a much better tendency. Prices of commodities tended rather to move upwards than to further depreciate, and, in spite of the difficulties of the exchanges, the company's export sales for the first six months showed an increase of 90 per cent. over those of last year.

In reply to questions, the Chairman said that the company's claim for refund of Excess Profits Duty was about £500,000. When they came to submit proposals for the reorganisation of the capital a complete statement of facts and accounts dealing, not only with Crosse and Blackwell, Ltd., but with all its subsidiary companies, would be laid before the shareholders, and it would be for the shareholders to decide whether they would agree to those proposals or not.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

THE BURNING OF AHASCRAGH CHURCH.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

Sir,—Many of us in this part of the West have lived of late the life of the hunted. We have suffered many things, and have to endure the uneasy feeling that there was worse to come. But no one expected what has actually happened. No one in his darkest moments dreamed of the malicious destruction by fire of a church. And if there are any churches which might well look for special immunity from such a fate, Ahascragh Church is surely one of them. Protestant and Catholic in that quiet Galway village have always lived in amity, and have co-operated with one another in many ways. The large landowners of the parish enjoyed always a high reputation for justice and generosity. "They never quenched a hearth," is the local tribute to their remarkable record. Yet on the night of Wednesday, the 19th of July, a gang of miscreants set to work, and the Protestants awoke in the morning to find their beloved and beautiful church burned to the ground. Nothing remained of the edifice, of its hallowed equipment and costly adornments, save the tower (its woodwork badly damaged) and the stark, blackened walls.

While it stood, the church was one of the most beautiful in this part of Ireland, and was kept with the most scrupulous care. It has been enlarged and richly adorned in recent years, particularly through the generosity of Lady Clonbrock. The western entrance, with its archway of carved limestone and marble, the handsome roof of pitchpine, the stained glass windows, the pipe-organ, and the rare and wonderful mural mosaics contributed to give the building its air of ornate and dignified beauty. The large entrance doors in the tower were a memorial to the late rector, Canon Hunt, and the interior was embellished with many special gifts and with memorials to the chief families of the parish, notably to the ancestors of Lord Clonbrock and of Sir William Mahon, Bart.

Now the accumulated offerings of generations of worshippers have been destroyed in a couple of hours by a handful of malignants. The Catholic priest and many Catholics of the community promptly made known their horror at the crime, and a meeting of protest has been arranged. The outrage is attributed to "irregulars." No repudiations, no convictions, no amount of compensation can ever remove the stigma of this shameful deed, or restore the beloved church as it stood a few days ago, with its sanctitude and its treasure of precious memories.—Yours, etc.,

"Clonfert."

July 22nd, 1922.

[As we reported yesterday, a meeting of Roman Catholics at Ahascragh, on Sunday last, under the presidency of the Rev. P. J. Shanagher, P.P., adopted the following resolution unanimously:—

"That we, the Catholic people of Ahascragh and adjoining parish, in public meeting assembled, hereby express our horror and indignation at the unchristian conduct of the wicked individuals who burned the Ahascragh Protestant Church; and we beg to offer our profound sympathy to the Rev. Mr. Townshend and every member of his congregation, with all of whom we have lived on the most friendly relations." Ed., I.T.]

SURSUM CORDA.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

Sir,—Standing by the still smoking ruins of one of the noblest Georgian structures in this island, and watching its art treasures—an invaluable collection—being converted into ashes, the words of Augustine came to my mind with a new light and meaning:—"See whether any evil can happen the good and faithful which might not be converted into a blessing for them. They lost all that they had. But did they lose their faith? Did they lose their godliness? Did they lose the treasures of the heart? This is the wealth of the Christian. Our dear friend Paulinus, the Bishop of Nola, a man of the amplest means, who in the fulness of his heart became extremely poor, yet abundantly sanctified, after the barbarians had looted the country, and while he was kept a prisoner in bonds, used to pray in his heart, as I afterwards learnt from him—'Lord, let me not be troubled about gold and silver, for where all my treasure is Thou knowest.'" ("The City of God.") The words of that great master help us to face the realities in the right spirit.—Yours, etc.,

F. R. Montgomery Hitchcock, D.D.

SCHOOL DENTAL CLINICS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

Sir,—You published on the 29th June a letter from Mr. F. P. Carey on this subject, suggesting in its concluding paragraphs "the establishment of a clinic, as an experiment, in connection with one of our national schools." I had hoped that the Secretary of the Women's National Health Association, which took up this matter as soon as the Act making it feasible was in operation, would have written with fuller information than I am able to give, to assure your correspondent and your readers that the experimental stage is long past, and that a number of these school dental clinics are, and have long been, at work in different parts of the country. We have had one here since 1912, which treats the children of four schools at a common centre.

It is, indeed, greatly to be wished that more attention were given to this most important work and more practical interest aroused in it. The Local Government Board, under which the school clinics now work, can supply information as to the carrying out of the scheme—grants in aid, necessary expenses, etc., and regulations to be complied with—but at present, I believe, the starting of new clinics awaits the action of the local district councils to put in motion the provisions of the last Public Health Act concerning them. If you, sir, can arouse interest in, or bring light to shine on, this whole question, you will add another service to those you have rendered to the country.—Yours, etc.,

Edith G. Culverwell,
Honorary Secretary, Howth Schools Dental Clinic.

THE DUBLIN CENTRAL MISSION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

Sir,—For the past six years our Holiday Home at Skerries has been open from the beginning of June until the end of September. Each year, through the generosity of your readers and other friends of the children, we have been able to send between 160 and 180 little ones from the sweltering Dublin slums for a fortnight's holidays at the seaside. No pen can describe what the change has meant to them. Last year one little girl, who had been ill before going for her holiday, wrote us on her return, saying, "Skerries has saved my life." The appeal of the helpless little ones to the sympathy of their friends is stronger than ever. During the past winter many bread-winners have been out of work and many on short time. This has meant insufficient food and clothing for the children.

These circumstances, combined with the appalling housing conditions, have left many little ones sorely needing a change if they are not to suffer permanently. This change, even for a day, is quite impossible if we do not come to their aid once more. They are counting on us, and it would be cruel to disappoint them. Confident that our friends will not fail us, we have begun the work, and already four parties of children have been sent to Skerries. During the terrible experiences through which our city has just passed, no part of the community suffered so much as the little children. The dangers of the streets compelled their mothers to keep them cooped up day and night in overcrowded rooms, listening (sometimes terror-stricken) to the noise of the guns. A fortnight at Skerries will help them to forget.

The following are a few typical cases which we want to help this year. If space permitted, we could add many others:—

A.—Father, mother, and eight children, living in two small rooms. Father's work very uncertain. Mother almost worn out with toil and anxiety, although making a brave struggle against terrible odds.

B.—Father, mother, and five children. Father on half-time during most of the year. Mother ill for several weeks, compelled to go to hospital for treatment; one child delicate.

C.—Family of seven in wretched tenement. Father out of work for months. Mother, though far from strong, struggling to keep the wolf from the door. Two of the children very delicate, needing care and nourishment which their mother cannot give them. We would very much like to give some of these poor mothers a little change and rest if we can possibly do so.

Your readers can help by sending a contribution to our Treasurer, Mr. J. R. Coade, J.P., Dun Griffan, Sydney Parade, Dublin; or to me.—Yours, etc.,

STRIKE AT MESSRS. ARNOTT'S.

The strike at Messrs. Arnott and Company continues, there being no change apparently in the attitude of the parties to the dispute, which relates to a question of wages.

In reply to the letter from the Merchant Drapers' Association addressed to Mr. Duffy, concerning the strike, a letter under date 24th inst. was addressed to Mr. R. J. Kidney, Secretary of the Dublin Merchant Drapers' Association, in which Mr. Duffy says that the staff of Arnott and Co. did not cease work while negotiations were proceeding on amicable lines. The strike notice was served after the final reply to their demand, promised by the Merchants' Council, was received, and found incapable of acceptance. The attempts made subsequent to the issue of the strike notice were so hedged round by ambiguity that the Executive Committee of the Union were unable to withdraw the notice to permit their exploration.

BELFAST REFUGEES' CONCERT.

With reference to a paragraph appearing in yesterday's Irish Times Signor Gangi wishes to announce that he did not engage Signor Vincent d'Ambrosio Stradella for the Belfast Refugees' Concert, and that the name was mentioned in error.

ARMED ROBBERY.

IMPORTANT INSURANCE QUESTION.

In the King's Bench Division the Lord Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Gordon delivered judgment in the case of Bolands, Ltd., v. the London and Lancashire Fire Insurance Co., Ltd., in the result of which considerable interest was taken in commercial and insurance circles, as a large number of cases of a similar kind depend upon it.

The Court held that, following the decision of the Court of Appeal in Southern Ireland in the case of Boggan v. the Motor Union Insurance Company, the loss suffered by Bolands, Ltd., was not caused through, or in consequence of, riot within the meaning of the policy, and that, consequently, Messrs. Bolands were entitled to recover the sum of £1,250 8s. 2d. from the insurance company, and were also entitled to the costs incidental to the case.

The Lord Chief Justice, in his judgment, said that on the 25th February, 1920, Bolands, Ltd., effected a policy of insurance with the London and Lancashire Fire Insurance Co., Ltd., to hold them indemnified to the extent of £5,000 against loss by theft of the cash in the cashier's office in the bakery, Grand Canal street, Dublin. The policy provided that the insurance did not cover loss directly or indirectly caused by, or in consequence of, amongst other things, invasions, hostilities, acts of foreign enemy, riots, strikes, civil commotion, rebellions, insurrections, military or usurped power, or martial law. The policy further provided that, in the event of any claim arising thereunder, the insured, if so required, and as a condition precedent to any liability of the company, should give proof that the loss did not in any way arise under or through the above accepted circumstances or causes.

It appeared from the case stated that on Saturday, June 25th, 1921, the watchman, John Kilmurray, hearing a knock at the side door, through which the staff came to work, unlocked the gate. When the gate was opened four men entered, pushed in the watchman, and ordered him to go down the yard. They then searched him, and one of them ordered him to put up his hands, and they kept him in that position until the robbers left. The others rushed into the office, shouted "Hands up," and, covering all who were present with revolvers, they cut the telephone. The cashier, seeing a hand presenting a revolver at him from outside his office window, left the cash office enclosure, but at the door of the outer office he was "held up" by one of the armed men, who ordered him to put up his hands, and stand further up the room. Hugh Gaynor, a vanman, who had just come in, had his money ready for the cashier on the office window. This money was taken by the man who levelled his revolver through the window at the cashier. Another vanman, Gerald Murray, who had arrived a short time before, was counting his cash for payment to the cashier, and this cash was also taken. One of the armed men came to where the cashier had been directed to stand, saying: "Have the contents of this (meaning the revolver) or give me the keys of the safe." The cashier pointed out the safe, which had been opened to put away the cash received from the vanmen. Two of the robbers went to the safe and took all the money that they found there. The robbers remained about ten minutes, and the employés present were unarmed and were told not to leave the premises for a quarter of an hour.

Messrs. Bolands claimed under their policy, and it was agreed that the amount stolen was £1,250 8s. 2d. The insurance company denied liability on the ground of riot and civil commotion, and in pursuance of the terms of the policy the matter was referred to the arbitration of Mr. F. F. Denning, K.C., and Mr. Robert G. L. Leonard, K.C. At the arbitration the company denied liability on the ground of riot and civil commotion, but the arbitrators held that the loss did not arise through civil commotion, but being of opinion that the circumstances in which the money was stolen constituted a riot within the legal definition of the word, they found that the loss was caused by, or in consequence of, a riot within the meaning of the policy, and that the claimants were not entitled to recover any sum in respect of their loss.

The question which was left to the Court upon the case was whether, upon the facts, the arbitrators were justified in so finding.

The Lord Chief Justice said that he had no doubt that the facts as stated in the present case would be sufficient to establish a riot within the legal definition of the word, and the arbitrators appeared to have come to the conclusion that any riot, within the legal definition of the word, would be a riot within the meaning of the policy, which would free the insurers from the liability. He (the Lord Chief Justice) had, however, held in the case of Boggan v. The Motor Union Insurance Company that it did not at all follow that every riot which came within the legal definition of the term was a riot within the meaning of the policy, and that the mere fact of the theft having been committed by four armed men, acting in concert, did not make it a riot within the meaning of the policy. Knowing that Boggan's case was the subject of an appeal then pending in the Court of Appeal for Southern Ireland, he thought it better to reserve judgment until judgment had been delivered in the Court of Appeal. The Court of Appeal, by a majority, consisting of Lord Justice Ronan and Mr. Justice Dodd, Lord Justice O'Connor dissenting, had upheld the view which he (the Lord Chief Justice) had expressed at the trial. Lord Justice Ronan, with whom Mr. Justice Dodd agreed, laid it down in express terms that the mere fact that the act contained the elements of a riot did not exclude the claimant from the benefit of the policy. The judgments in that case appeared to be applicable to the present case, and to bind the Court to hold that, in the circumstances of this case, which seemed to him undistinguishable, there was no riot which would enable the insurance company to free themselves from the liability which they had undertaken in regard to theft. There was deliberate theft, and the assembly was simply an assembly for the purpose, and for the purpose alone, of effecting the theft; and so far from the loss being caused by, or in consequence of, a riot, the so-called riot was simply an assembly of four armed men for the purpose of effecting a theft. He therefore thought that, following Boggan's case, by which they were bound, the loss was not caused, or happened through, or in consequence of, a riot within the meaning of the policy, and that consequently Messrs. Bolands are entitled to recover the sum of £1,250 8s. 2d. from the insurance company, and are also entitled to the costs of and incidental to this case.

Mr. Justice Gordon concurred.

Mr. S. L. Brown, K.C., who, with Mr. Murnaghan (instructed by Messrs. Hoey and Denning), appeared for the insurance company, asked for stay of execution. The question, either in this case or in the other case, must go further, because it involved so many other cases. Both Messrs. Bolands and the insurance company were so solvent that he did not think it mattered very much to either of them.

Mr. Fitzgibbon, K.C., who, with Mr. Edward Fitzgerald (instructed by Messrs. D. and T. Fitzgerald) appeared for Messrs. Bolands, Ltd., said that it would be rather hard on his clients if they were to wait indefinitely while the Boggan people were considering their case.

The Lord Chief Justice suggested that the insurance company should serve notice of appeal at once, and upon that notice of appeal execution would be stayed.

Mr. Fitzgibbon said that the costs of the arbitration were not left by the arbitrators to that Court; therefore their lordships were only dealing with the costs of the case stated.

Mr. Justice Gordon—That is all we have power to deal with.

A DIVORCE DECREE.

WIFE'S PATHETIC LETTER.

Mr. Justice Gordon yesterday granted the prayer of the petitioner, John William Scharff, for a divorce a mensa et thoro from his wife, Kathleen Dorothy, nee Fitzmaurice, on the ground of her misconduct with Francis James Horton, whose profession was not stated. The petitioner and the respondent lived in Ireland before they were married. At the outbreak of the war the petitioner took up duty as surgeon probationer on H.M.S. Digby, which was cruising around the coast of Scotland. Miss Fitzmaurice went to live in Scotland with the view to their being married, and they were married on the 10th September, 1915, before the Registrar at Glasgow. After that they lived together at different places in Scotland. They returned to Dublin, he with the object of taking his degree in Public Health. Having taken his degree in June, 1918, both husband and wife went out to the Federated Malay Straits Settlement, where apparently they lived quite happily until June, 1921. There were two children of the marriage, a boy and a girl. Mrs. Scharff had a predilection for medicine, and she, with the consent of her husband, went to Singapore to study medicine. She became a paying guest at the house of a lady. The petitioner followed her to Singapore, and they took up house together, he having obtained the post of Port Health Officer there. The trouble began, said counsel, in November, 1920, so far as the petitioner knew it. His wife introduced to him Francis J. Horton, and at the wife's suggestion Horton became a paying guest at their quarters. Very soon the husband had reason to complain of the conduct of Horton, and he ordered him to leave the house. Mrs. Scharff objected, and said that if Horton left she would leave with him. That was on the 25th of January, 1921. Two days afterwards, when the petitioner came home in the evening, his wife was gone, and he found the following unsigned note in her handwriting:—

"Dear Jack,—This is just to bid you good-bye; and, though my blessing may avail little, God bless you. I believe there must be a God, so very bitterly am I punished for my sin. If ever I have wronged you in the past, as well as for the unforgivable wrong I am doing you now, I shall expect them all. I have no illusions as to what I am doing. There isn't any rose-colour about it—he has seen to that. Perhaps it was just of him. To what I am doing now, the only happy termination seems death, so many people will blame. I am left with not a friend anywhere, and there is no prospect of anything, so far as I can see, but I must take the rough with the smooth. My eyes are blind as I write. Take care of my Shiela, my poor, wee, golden-haired girlie. I pray I may never have another child, and I hope I may hear of her some time. Oh, Jack, there are so many memories of our life together! How can I bear to think of the sea again or the jungles? I do hope you will be successful, and that some day you can forget. Good-bye, my poor Jack; you have always been pitiful to me. Good-bye again, and try to forgive me!"

The evidence in the case, namely, that of the petitioner and two witnesses, was taken by commission before the Supreme Court of the Straits Settlement on the 10th of last May. The original petition and citation were destroyed in the Four Courts, but copies of them were produced by Messrs. Beauchamp and Orr, who were acting for the petitioner, who, it was stated, was 27 years of age.

The evidence of the manager of the hotel in which the respondent and Horton stayed together, and that of another person, having been read, and there being no answer to the petition and no appearance for the respondent, Mr. Justice Gordon made the order as above stated.

Mr. E. Phelps (instructed by Messrs. Beauchamp and Orr) appeared for the petitioner.

A MARRIAGE SETTLEMENT.

SALE OF A DUBLIN HOTEL.

In the Chancery Division yesterday, before Mr. Justice Pim, in the adjourned cases of Perowne v. Russell, which Mr. Justice Samuels had allowed to stand over from Tuesday last,

Mr. Conner, K.C. (instructed by Messrs. William Fry and Sons), on behalf of the plaintiff, trustee of a marriage settlement of a daughter of the late Sir Thomas Russell, under which a sum of £5,000 was covenanted to be paid, now renewed his application for an order for the sale of the Hotel Russell, St. Stephen's Green, Dublin, with the furniture and fittings, with a stay until the 1st of November, Messrs. Stokes Bros. and Pim, accountants, to audit the books and accounts relating to the working of the hotel premises in the meantime. He also asked for an order directing that the title deeds of premises, now in the possession of the Irish Civil Service Permanent Building Society, should be lodged in the Records and Writ Office, in order to facilitate the preparation of the title in view of a sale. The defendants, he explained, had agreed to this arrangement, and they were confident that they would have no difficulty in raising the necessary money to make a substantial payment on foot of the charge, there being a desire to avoid a sale if possible. The hotel business was still carried on by Lady Russell as it had been in Sir Thomas Russell's life-time.

Mr. Carson (instructed by Messrs. Hayes and Sons), for Lady Russell, suggested that the date of the order for sale should be extended to four months, instead of three, as specified by Mr. Conner.

Mr. Conner said that he could not agree to that. There had been very considerable delay, and for the last two years nothing whatever had been paid on foot of the charge.

Mr. Carson said that Lady Russell had furnished an account.

Mr. Conner allowed that she had, but nothing had been paid and nothing had been vouched.

Mr. Justice Pim remarked that the longer the time allowed to enable payment to be made the better it would be for the plaintiff.

Mr. Conner said that he did not think much further delay would be desirable under the circumstances.

Mr. Leachman, solicitor for the executors, pointed out that there was no place at present in which to put the title deeds of the premises. (Laughter.)

Mr. Justice Pim made an order for the sale of the premises, with a stay till 1st November, Messrs. Fry and Sons undertaking to take over the title deeds from the Records and Writs Office and keep them safely in their strong-room.

SALE OF TREES.

A CONSENT.

Before Mr. Justice Dodd yesterday, in the case of Harold F. B. de Caen against Michael Garland, both residing near Delgany, County Wicklow,

Mr. John O'Byrne (instructed by Messrs. Corrigan and Corrigan), for the defendant, applied that a consent be made a rule of Court. Counsel said that the plaintiff sold the defendant 200 trees for £300, and he subsequently brought an action against the defendant for breach of contract in the felling and removal of the trees, and for trespass and damage done in the carting away of the timber. Defendant brought £51 into Court, and counter-claimed for £60 in respect of 40 trees which, he alleged, were short of the 200. The consent stated that the plaintiff agreed to accept £30 in settlement of his claim, and £12 for costs, which sums had been paid to him prior to the signing of the consent. The defendant agreed to withdraw his counter-claim, and the plaintiff agreed to the £51 lodged in Court by the defendant being returned to him.

Mr. Justice Dodd received the consent and made it a rule of Court.

Mr. J. R. Cresswell, solicitor, appeared for the plaintiff.

THE IRISH BAR.

COUNCIL TO SAFEGUARD THE PROFESSION.

A general meeting of the members of the Irish Bar was held yesterday in the Library, King's Inns, the "Father," Dr. Falconer, K.C., presiding. The meeting was called for the purpose of taking into consideration the circumstances in which the Irish Bar was placed by the present unsatisfactory condition of affairs in the country.

The meeting was private, but it is understood that it was unanimously decided that the Bar Council should be entrusted with the duty of safeguarding in every reasonable way the interests of the profession.

DUBLIN AND THE PROVINCES.

NEWS FROM ALL PARTS

BAG SNATCHING—Patrick McQuaid, 22 Ossory road; Peter O'Meara, 3 Gaelic street; and B. O'Neill, 2 Gilford place, North Strand, were charged in Dublin Police Court yesterday, with having snatched a handbag from Mrs. Lowe, on the Howth road. The evidence of Mrs. Lowe was to the effect that when she was on the Howth road on Monday evening, McQuaid snatched her handbag from her arm. It contained £1 5s. in money and various articles, value for a similar amount. Other witnesses described the arrest of the prisoners. McQuaid was arrested in a field at the back of Hollybrook road. He had a purse in his hand which was identified by Mrs. Lowe as her property. O'Neill said he was standing at the corner of St. Lawrence's and Howth roads, when a tall man told him to "Come on," saying: "I have it," pointing to a lady's handbag he was carrying. Mr. Collins remanded the prisoners.

WELL-KNOWN OFFICIAL'S WILL.—Mr. Nicholas Proud, of 77 Pembroke road, Ballsbridge, Dublin, Secretary of the Dublin Port and Docks Board, who died on May 10, has left personal estate of the value of £15,055 18s. 8d. He gives £200 to each of his children, £30 to Annie Millington, and the residue in trust to pay two-thirds of the income to his daughter, Emmeline Ida Edie, and one-third in trust for his daughter Avis Mary Alice Proud, and the whole to the survivor of them. On the death of the last-lived of his two daughters the whole of the property is to go to his two sons, Francis Harvey Nicholas and Percy Ernest.

END OF THE OLD LIFFEY FERRY BOATS.—Dublin has seen the last of the old-fashioned oar-propelled ferry boats, which plied between the North and South Walls of the Liffey. The lease of the ferries was coupled with the Metal Bridge on the "toll" system, but the boats have continued to ply for hire since the bridge was made free to the public, in opposition to the new civic-owned motor ferry boats. Yesterday officials ordered the passing of towing lines from the new motor boats to the old ferries, and hauled them down the Liffey into the Alexandra Basin, where they now lie.

TRANSFER OF LICENCE.—Yesterday in the Southern Police Court, Dublin, on the application of Mr. Joseph Gleeson, solicitor, Mr. E. A. Collins, K.C., Divisional Magistrate, granted a temporary transfer of the licence attached to the Great Southern and Western Railway Institute, Inchicore Works, to Mr. Thomas S. Hill, who has been recently appointed manager and librarian, in succession to Mr. Martin Joseph Banim, who has retired. Inspector Lawlor represented the police.

BENCH WARRANT ISSUED.—A warrant was issued in the Dublin Police Court yesterday, for the arrest of P. J. Cullen, who had been remanded at a previous sitting of the Court, on a charge of having forged the name of Mr. J. P. Smith, managing director of Messrs. Hampton, Leedom and Co., of Henry street, Dublin, to a cheque for £25. There are other larger sums involved in the case.

ULSTER.

AMMUNITION IN HIS POCKET.—At a Crimes Court in Dungannon, a young man named Michael McNamee, of Pomeroy, was charged with having ammunition not under effective military control. The ammunition was found in his pocket, and his explanation was that some youths with whom he had been drinking must have placed it there. He was kept in custody till the rising of the court, and ordered to find bail for his good behaviour for twelve months.

ILLICIT SPIRITS.—At Donemana Petty Sessions, John Gormley was summoned for having a worm of a "still" in his possession, and for being the occupier of land whereon was found concealed a bottle containing illicit spirits. Constable Thompson said he found the worm in an outhouse belonging to the defendant, who now denied all knowledge of it. The defence was that it was possible for anyone to put the articles there. The cases were dismissed.

£1,000 FOR UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF.—At a special meeting of the Strabane Urban District Council, it was intimated that the Ministry of Labour of Northern Ireland had notified that a sum of £1,000 had been allocated by the Ministry in respect of unemployment relief schemes. The Council decided to draw up relief schemes, and submit them to the Ministry for their approval.

ALLEGED ROBBERY.—At Newry yesterday, Mr. J. E. Connor, J.P., remanded in custody two young men named John Millar and Hugh Gribben for having, as alleged, on the 26th July, at Drumseek, robbed John Mallon, a bread-server of Messrs. Inglis and Co., of about £20.

YOUTH DROWNED AT NEWRY.—On Monday night a shop apprentice, named Michael John Creely, aged 14, who was swinging on the jib of a crane at Albert Basin, Newry, when he fell into sixteen feet of water and was drowned. The body was recovered in about fifteen minutes.

LADY DOCTOR'S APPOINTMENT.—The appointment of Dr. Evelyn M. Russell (Strabane) as Dispensary Medical Officer for the Moira district, has been sanctioned by the Ministry for Home Affairs for Northern Ireland.

MUNSTER.

PRICE OF PIGS.—The price paid for pigs at the Nenagh fortnightly market on Monday was £4 2s. per cwt. There were no Limerick buyers in attendance, and transactions were confined to a couple of local men.

Butter was only 1s. per lb. at Bailieboro' market on Monday.

The Local Government Board has sanctioned the appointment of Mr. J. A. Fitzsimons, Assistant Surveyor, as Engineer to the Bailieboro' Rural Council.

The local medical officers reported 164 vaccination defaulters in Bailieboro' Rural District, and the Council decided that the parents should be urged to comply with the law.

There is an abundant hay crop in Meath this season.

SOUTH COAST FETE.

POPULAR ATTRACTION AT KINGSTOWN.

The South Coast Fête has proved a great attraction. It has drawn thousands to the People's Park, where for the past two days all kinds of sports have been indulged in, to the great pleasure of young and adult, while the dancing pavilion has been one of the especially enjoyable features of the fête. Mr. M. F. O'Brien, who organised the fête in aid of the Kingstown Workmen's Club, with notable enterprise, secured its patrons a splendid evening's entertainment yesterday in the band performances of the Papal Cadet Corps, which is now visiting Dublin. To-night there is promised a fine display of Irish-made fireworks on a grand scale, and all the other attractions will be continued.

TARRED AND FEATHERED

EVIDENCE IN A BELFAST "HOLD-UP" CASE.

At the Belfast City Commission yesterday, Anthony Canning was put forward, charged with having, on 1st April, while armed with a revolver, together with several other men, who were also armed, made an assault on Patrick Forgione, wholesale confectioner, of 67 King street, and robbed him of £20.

It appeared from the Crown evidence that the accused, with four other men, entered the shop owned by Mr. Forgione, and ordered the staff to put up their hands. One of the men went to a drawer and took out a bag containing £20.

In cross-examination, Mr. Forgione denied that he reported the robbery to the I.R.A., as a result of which the prisoner was tarred and feathered. The leader of the party was a man who was now, he believed, in Dublin, and was shot in the arm by a Free State soldier.

A police sergeant said that he arrested the accused at the Royal Victoria Barracks.

Mr. Campbell (who defended)—Who informed you that he was there? Was it the I.R.A.?

Witness—No. I heard in the barracks that a man had been tarred and feathered by some persons who were dealing, apparently, with some people whom we were anxious also to deal with.

They did some good, anyway? They did, on this occasion. (Laughter.)

The prisoner was found guilty and put back for sentence.

U.S. MARKETS.

STOCKS CLOSED STRONG.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.)

NEW YORK, Tuesday.

Stocks opened irregular. Sugars were firm on the expectation of an early advance in the price of the commodity, but others were heavy on renewed professional selling; then an all-round advance ensued under active covering, due to the partial resumption of mining in Pennsylvania and Illinois, and preparations for an early renewal in other States. Sugars, Steel, Rails, and Motors were the strongest features at advances of 1 to 5 points, and the market closed strong.

PRODUCE MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Tuesday.

WHEAT—Spot market firm, 1c. to 1½c. up. Exporters engaged 250 boatloads of wheat, 20 of corn, and 20 of oats. Receipts—Atlantic 707,000, last year 2,265,000; clearances 385,000, last year 518,000.

CORN—Spot steady at ½c. rise. The week's export clearances from the Atlantic seaboard amount to 2,623,000 bushels, oats 892,000, and flour 108,000 barrels. Receipts—Atlantic 179,000, last year 50,000; clearances 155,000, last year 117,000.

LARD—Cash barely steady, with prime Western 10 and middle West 5 points lower.

RUBBER steady, ½c. down; first latex crepe, 14½; smoked ribbed sheets, 14½.

SUGAR firm, 6 points up for Centrifugal Cuban; Porto Rico, nominal. Futures firm, 8 to 12 points up. September, 3.79; December, 3.93; March, 3.69; May, 3.79. To-day's sugar sales—5,000 bags old crop Cuban sugar were sold to refiners at 5.30 for prompt shipment; 200,000 bags of Cuban at 5.36 for August shipment; and 51,000 bags of Porto Rico at 5.36 for August shipment.

COTTON opened steady, 1 point up to 3 points down, the decline being due to Southern selling; then advance ensued on encouraging cables and foreign buying. Wall street selling and unloading by bulls resulted from the disappointing condition of the cotton goods trade; but, on bullish advices, buying by New Orleans, and shorts covering, the market closed firm at gains ranging from 18 to 2 points. Spot steady at 30 points fall. New Orleans spot unchanged. Receipts—Atlantic 1,000, Gulf 5,000, Pacific 2,000. Exports—Britain 4,000, Continent 6,000, Japan 2,000. July, unquoted; August, 21.35; September, 21.37; October, 21.40; November, 21.37; December, 21.35; January, 21.25; February, 21.20; March, 21.18; April, 21.10; May, 21.02; June, unquoted.

COTTON OIL easy, with summer yellow spot 20 and September option 5 points down.

PETROLEUM steady.

KANSAS CITY—Wheat firm, 1½c. up; No. 2 hard winter, 112½.

ST. LOUIS—Wheat firm at 2½c. gain; No. 2 red winter, 112½.

MINNEAPOLIS—Wheat steady at ½c. gain; No. 1 Northern spring, 140½.

WINNIPEG—Wheat opened firmer, ½c. to ½c. higher, and advanced on advices of dry weather in the North-West. The closing was firm, 2½c. to ½c. up; July, 128½; October, 113½. Oats steady and unchanged; October, 44½.

CHICAGO, Tuesday.

WHEAT opened steady at ½c. improvement, and scored further gains on dry weather in the Canadian North-West and export business, but afterwards gave way under favourable North-West crop reports and selling by cash and commission houses, the latter being on South-West account. Covering operations on bullish Liverpool cables and stronger North-West markets followed; but favourable European crop news, larger interior receipts, and realising caused an irregular close, with July 2c. up and others unchanged to ½c. down. Spot steady. No. 2 hard winter, spot, 111½; No. 3 hard winter, spot, 111½. July, 110; September, 107½; December, 109½.

CORN opened barely steady, although ½c. up to unchanged, but soon declined on large receipts and better crop reports; then improved on rumours of export business and bull support. Another set-back occurred owing to favourable weather, small seaboard clearances, and commission house selling for South-West account; and, in spite of some late covering, the market closed barely steady, ½c. to ½c. lower. No. 2 mixed, spot, 64½. July, 61½; September, 62½; December, 58½.

PROVISIONS opened quiet, and declined on adverse European advices, scarcity of buyers, moderate commission house selling, and liquidation. The speculative sentiment was bearish throughout, and the market closed easy, with lard 7½ to 10 and ribs 20 to 17½ points cheaper. Pork continues a lifeless market. Lard—July, 42½; September, 11.47½. Pork unquoted. Ribs—July, 11.00; September, 11.07½.

BACON easy and unchanged to 25 points down. The receipts of hogs at 15 principal Western centres, including Chicago, since March 1, total 11,170,000, against 10,853,000 for the same season last year.

HOGS easy, with light 10 down and heavy unchanged to 10 points lower.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND NOTES.

IRISH STOCK EXCHANGES.

DUBLIN.

INVESTMENT STOCKS GOOD. GUINNESS, BANK STOCK, TEXTILES ALL RISING. DRAPERY SHARES OFFERED.

There was still a satisfactory tendency in prices of the better class securities owing to the continuing effect of cheap monetary conditions, but local securities outside this designation were dull, and offered with an indifferent demand. The Funds were further advanced on well-sustained, persistent support. Banks were also supported. The Hibernian Bank report and balance sheet, just issued, was well received, as further increased prosperity was clearly indicated. The demand for Guinness Ord. carried the price to 44 for present and deferred delivery. City Steam Pref. hardened further, and the Ord. Stock was also wanted. Marconis marked time at the previous day's reduced level. Home Rails were quiet, but Great Southern and Western Ord. passed under 50, as against up to 58 bid prior to the serious traffic interruption. Parent Tyre Def. fell to 22s., but the Ord. were buyers for choice at 16s., and the Pref. about 13s. 9d. Drapery Shares were less firm in some cases. Textiles and Tobaccos were good and higher.

The Funds rose further. Consols rose ⅛ to 59⅞, War Loan 4½ p.c. ⅛ to 96½, do. 5 p.c. ⅛ to 100⅛, Conversion 3½ p.c. ⅛ to 77⅞, India 3½ p.c. ⅛ to 68½, and Irish Land 2¾ p.c. ¼ to 60. Banks were firm all day. Bank Stock rose ½ to 223 x.d. Hibernians, at 6¼, and Nationals, at 18, were steady.

Dealing in Breweries was confined to Guinness issues, which closed very firm. The Ord. rose ⅜ to 44-44¼ for cash and account, and the Pref. repeated 11⅞. Dublin Distillers closed sellers on the poor trading results of the past year, with reduced earnings and dividends. City Steam Pref. rose ½ to 102½; and in Telegraphs, Marconi Ord. repeated 43s.

Home Railways were quiet, with Great Southern ½ lower at 49½, while the Debs., at 75, Great Northern Pref., at 66, the Ord., at 58, and do. Debs., at 76, show no alteration. In Trams, Dublin United Pref. repeated 10¼. Dunlops were less firm. Dunlop Rubbers closed offered at 8s. 3d., and Parent Tyre Def. fell 1s. to 22s., while the Ord. of the latter rose 1½d. to 16s., and the Pref. closed about 13s. 6d.-13s. 9d. buyers unofficially.

The only change in Drapery Shares was a fall of 1s. 6d. to 18s. in Todd Burns Ord. Crowe Wilson Ord. repeated 21s., and the Pref. were held for 17s. 6d., or 6d. over last marking.

Manufacturing Shares were mostly cheerfully disposed. British-American Tobacco rose 6d. to 84s.-84s. 3d., Imperial 10½d. to 67s. 4½d., 67s. 6d., 67s. 1½d., 3d., 4½d.; Coats 6d. to 65s. 9d.-65s. 6d., Cottons 7½d. to 47s., Spinners 6d. to 40s., and Lever Brothers 7 p.c. Pref. 7½d. to 19s. 6d. Vickers eased another 1½d. to 13s. 4½d.

In Miscellaneous securities, Dublin Granaries realised 45s., Mexican Eagle Oils fell 4½d. to 60s., and the Pref. closed 20s. 3d. Pease and Partners Ord. quoted 24s. 6d.

STOCKS STEADY.

BUSINESS NOT BRISK.

(FROM OUR FINANCIAL CORRESPONDENT AND THE "FINANCIAL NEWS" OF TO-DAY.)

It cannot be said that business was any more brisk than it has been for several days past. The Gilt-edged market remained perfectly steady all day. Its steadiness may be illustrated by the course of the 5 per cent. War Loan. Opening at 100⅞, it touched 100⅞, and at the close had regained its opening quotation. Consols, Conversion Loan, Funding Loan, and Victory Bonds were all the turn harder. India and Colonial issues were quiet and a little firmer for choice.

LONDON STOCKS QUIET.

DULL AFTER GOOD OPENING.

There was only a moderate amount of business on the Stock markets yesterday, the general carry-over rather holding business up. The general tone became dull after a good opening. Home Rails were the most conspicuous department, though South Africans were good. The Consols market was hoping for a very satisfactory revenue statement, and on the strength of this there was a good demand for Treasury Bonds C 106¾, and ditto D 102⅞. Consols rose ¼ to 59½, and the 4½ per cent. War Loan rose ⅛ to 96¼.

The following are some of the prices of new issues:—Brazil 7½ per cent. 3½ prem., Charles Baker 4½ prem., Calcutta 6 per cent. 1¼ prem., Calcutta Tram Debs. 2 prem., City and South London Debs. 1¾ prem., Chargeurs Reunis 10 discount, Consett Iron Debs. 4 prem., India New 3½ prem., Indian Electric Debs. ¼ dis. ½ prem. Johannesburg 5½ per cent. ⅞ prem., London Electric Debs. 1¼ prem., Madras Electric Debs. ½ dis. ½ prem. New South Wales 4½ per cent. 2¼ dis., Platt Bros. Ord. 2, ditto Cum. Pref. 22s. 9d.; Port of Bombay 1 prem., Prague 4½ dis., Royal Mail 1¾ prem., Straits 1¼ dis., Sena Sugar 3 dis., Tata Iron and Steel 2 dis. Dealings commenced yesterday in Bengal Telephone Corporation 7 per cent. Bonds at 3 prem. on the issue price of 97. There was a reaction later to 2¼ prem., but soon afterwards the price rose to 2¾ prem., only to decline to 2¼ prem.

In FOREIGN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES support was given to French Loans on the forthcoming visit of M. Poincaré, which, it is hoped, will be fruitful. The Fives rose ½ to 40, and the Fours 1 to 31½. German Threes were firm. Japanese 4½ per cent. fell 1 to 106, but the new 5 per cent. rose 1 to 86. Mexican Fives fell 1 to 64. Argentine 5 per cent. (1907) rose ½ to 84½, and Peruvian Corporation Pref. ½ to 27.

HOME RAILS, though the best of the markets, were not very active, and changes were few and not very important. North-Eastern Consols rose 1 to 123. Brighton "A" at 64, Great Eastern at 42½, Great Western at 108, and South-Eastern Def. at 38, were each ½ better. Great Central Def. rose ¼ to 9½, and North British Def. ½ to 19½.

In COLONIAL AND FOREIGN RAILS, "Canpacs" fell 1 to 156. Grand Trunk Guaranteed lost a point at 71. There was a slight recovery in Argentines, "B.A.G.S." rising ½ to 79, and Centrals ½ to 69. Antofagasta Ord. rose ½ to 70½, and United of Havana ½ to 68½. Americans were flat. Atchison at 112, Baltimore at 60, Chesapeake at 75, Missouri at 12, and Union Pacific at 157, all fell a point.

OILS IDLE.

DECLINES IN THE LEADERS.

No difficulty attended the arrangements for the carry-over in the Oil Share market yesterday, and in truth the account was of such small dimensions that a minimum of anxiety was felt. The general rate for the continuation of bargains showed no change at 5½ 6½ p.c., but the rates varied in certain specialities, such as Mexican Eagles, which were done at 3-4 p.c., and later at 4-4½ p.c., and in Royal Dutch at 3 to 4 p.c., and in Shells at 4 to 5 p.c. After the closing of the account the trend of the market gradually improved, although shrinkages occurred in Royal Dutch, which shed nearly the whole of their gain of the previous session, and in Mexican Eagles, Shells, and Burmahs. All these descriptions were dull. The reason for the decline in Mexican Eagles was attributed to provincial selling. The feature of the market, however, was a general improvement in the Trinidad group. Trinidad Centrals led the way with a substantial recovery, and rises were experienced in Leaseholds and in United British of Trinidad. Phoenix shares continued their upward movement, and in this connection it will be noted with interest that the British Orion Co. has now been registered with a nominal capital of £400,000 in 395,000 shares of £1 each, and in 100,000 shares of 1s. each. Mexican Eagles closed at 2⅞. In sympathy the Prefs. dwindled to 2¾, but the 7 p.c. Prefs. held their ground at 20s. Shells also were the turn easier at 4⅞ ex. div. Royal Dutch failed to maintain their improvement of Monday and slipped back ⅜ to 37½, while Burmahs dropped ⅛ to 5⅜. Anglo Persian Ord. shares hardened to 5⅛. Anglo Egyptian "B" shares were influenced by the increased production figures, which showed a rise of 236 tons for the week and closed unchanged. Oilfields of Egypt gained 3d. at 4s. Phoenix were 1½ better at 26s. 1½d. Trinidad Issues came into demand, and registered palpable advances. Closing prices:—

FINANCIAL PARAGRAPHS.

We are glad to see (says the Evening Standard) that the practice of "introducing" new capital issues to the Stock Exchange without first giving publicity to the prospectus relating to same is once more coming under criticism. It is a practice that the Stock Exchange Committee should set its face against. We are aware that before allowing dealings in the new securities the Committee insist upon the publication of certain details in two newspapers, but such details do not include all the facts the would-be investor is entitled to know, and he can only obtain them by examination of the actual prospectus, which is carefully concealed from him.

There has been a certain amount of dealing lately in options on gilt-edged stocks, but if a new Stock Exchange rule which comes up for confirmation on August 9 is finally passed this dealing will be prohibited. The new rule reads—"Forward bargains and options for settlement on account days are prohibited in all securities under the heading British Funds and Colonial and Provincial Government Securities."

In reference to the City of Riga 4½ per Cent. Loan, and to the announcement made by them on 22nd June, Messrs. Lazard Brothers and Co., Ltd., state that the Town Council of Riga have failed to ratify the arrangements provisionally agreed to by the Mayor and the Chief of the Finance Department of the city during their recent visit to London. It is understood, however, that the Town Council desire to continue negotiations.

In view of the inaccurate statements which have been printed in various newspapers concerning the indebtedness of Allan A. Ryan to the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, we append the following statement issued on Saturday in New York by Mr. William C. Potter, President of the Guaranty Trust Company:—"Attention is called to certain newspaper statements of the indebtedness of Allan A. Ryan to the Guaranty Trust Company of New York variously placed at 8,500,000 dollars and upwards. The facts are that Allan A. Ryan and Allan A. Ryan and Company owe Guaranty Trust Company of New York for its own account a principal amount of approximately 4,000,000 dollars, against which pledged collateral applies. Cognisance has been taken of this situation for more than a year, and in anticipation thereof reserves have been set up against this account aggregating 3,000,000 dollars. While there are loans standing in the name of Guaranty Trust Company of New York in excess of the figure given above all such loans are held by the Guaranty Trust Company of New York in its capacity as trustee and for account of others."

LONDON MINING MARKET FEATURELESS.

PUBLIC INTEREST AT A LOW EBB.

There was no improvement in conditions in the Stock Exchange yesterday. Speculative activity was practically non-existent, and public interest in Mines was at a low ebb. In the Kaffir section there was a modest inquiry for one or two of the Far Easterns. The finance descriptions kept steady, as a rule, but "Johnnies" were rather offered. All the changes on the day numbered only a dozen rises and falls, being about evenly divided. In the Rhodesian department Chartered were a quiet market. Gaika recovered, Cam. and Motor being easier, despite rumours of good developments in the mine. Although Paris still held aloof, De Beers Def. were a harder market, and other Diamonds kept steady. A further small rise in the price of tin to £158 6s. 3d. per ton caused a little attention to be directed to the Share market, where Anglo-Continental and one or two others responded readily to a modest inquiry. Akim were dullish, but among Australians there was a disposition to bid for one or two Barriers. Coppers kept steady, but in the Russian list Russos were again in favour, and finished higher. Elsewhere, Burma Corporation were better, and Kirkland Lake and Colombian Mining moved up. Indians were firm. The Balaghat report for June shows some good developments in the lowest levels of the mine. Silver fell ⅛d. to 35d. per oz. Closing prices:—

INDUSTRIALS SLACK.

SHARP RISE IN TOBACCOS.

Operators in the Miscellaneous and Industrial markets were chiefly concerned with the carry-over yesterday. This was easily arranged, and the general rate ranged from 5 to 6 per cent. In the case of Courtaulds, however, 5 per cent. was paid for the continuation of bargains, and later the rate eased to 3-4 per cent. Dealings for the new account were on a small scale, but a few features of interest developed. B.A.T.'s rose sharply, and Imperials met with support, while Breweries continued firm, Watney Combes further advancing on dividend anticipations. Coal stocks came into strong demand as the result of the heavy exports to America owing to the coal strike there. Powell Duffryns closed another 1s. higher at 34s. 6d., after a rather large turnover, and D. Davis and North's Navigations both rose 9d. to 7s. 3d. and 6s. 3d., respectively. In the Iron and Steel list, Ebbw Vales put on 6d. to 13s. 6d., as did also Babcock and Wilcox to 60s. 6d.; while Cargo Fleets hardened to 14s. 6d. Armstrongs, however, eased to 16s. 9d. Vickers still ruled at 13s. 3d., and the tax free Prefs. at 17s. Sheffield Steels further receded to 1s. 6d. on the passing of the dividend, the Prefs. changing hands at 4s. 9d., and the Debs. were offered down to 83. Among Ammunition issues, Nobels kept firm at 12s. 6d., and the Prefs. improved to 18s. 6d. Shipping descriptions were featureless. In Insurances, General Accidents rose ¼ to 5⅛, and similar gains were registered in London and Lancashire Fire at 13⅞, and by Londons at 8¼. Among Banks, Hong Kong and Shanghai gained a point at 116. National Provincial (£4) strengthened to 10⅜ ex div. Lloyds receded to 58s. ex div., and losses of ⅛ were seen in National of Egypts at 20¼ and in National of South Africas at 10⅛. Among Stores descriptions, John Barkers further improved to 47s. 6d., or another 9d. higher on the day. Movements among Textiles were rather irregular. Coats closed another 6d. higher at 65s. 6d., and Bleachers rose 6d. to 38s.; while Courtaulds rallied to 51s. 8d. Calico Printers, however, lost 1s. at 21s. 6d., and John Wood Bros. ⅛ at ⅞. Amalgamated Cottons remained at 15s. 6d. Caterers showed no quotable alterations. Among Foodstuffs, Apollinaris Prefs. lost ⅛ at 2¼, and Bovril Def. further receded to 19s. 6d. Breweries continued firm. Bass Ratcliff Prefs. rose a point to 90¼, and Watney Combe Prefs. also gained that much at 54¼, while the Def. put on 5 points to 204½. Marconis held their ground at 2¾ in the Wireless list, and the Prefs. still ruled at 2 and Marines at 1⅛. Renewed strength was displayed by Sudan Plantations in the Land group, the quotation rising ⅛ to 4¼ ex-div. Pekins improved to 10s. 9d., but Shansis kept at 2. Pahangs hardened to 5s. 3d., though Duff Developments and Yang-Tse Corporations both closed a few pence lower at 3s. 9d. and 4s. 6d. respectively. Support was forthcoming for B.A.T.'s in the Tobacco group, and the price closed 2s. higher at 85s. 6d. Imperials rose 9d. to 67s. 6d., and the "A" Prefs. rallied to 23s. 3d. Among Miscellaneous concerns, Crosse and Blackwells fell 6d. to 5s. 3d. owing to statements at yesterday's meeting regarding the reorganisation of capital. The 1st Pref. still ruled at 15s. 6d., but the 2nd gave way to 10s. 9d. British and Argentine Meats further receded to 28s. 6d. Magadi Sodas and Salt Unions both fell 3d. to 7s. 9d. and 15s. respectively, but Brunner Mond recovered to 50s., and the Prefs. were in demand at 27s. 9d.

DIVIDENDS AND REPORTS.

GREAT NORTHERN RAILWAY CO. (IRELAND).—The Board, at their meeting yesterday, after appropriating the sum of £75,000 from the Company's share of the compensation received under the Irish Railways (Settlement of Claims) Act, 1921, declared the following dividends for the half-year ended 30th June, 1922:—Consolidated Four per Cent. Preference Stock at £4 per cent. per annum; Ordinary Stock at £4 per cent. per annum, in both cases less income tax. These dividends will be paid on the 1st of September next to the proprietors who were registered at the closing of the Transfer Books on the 3rd inst. Last July the dividend was the same, but no appropriation was made from Government compensation.

MIDLAND GREAT WESTERN RAILWAY OF IRELAND.—The Directors, at their Board meeting yesterday, declared an interim dividend on the Consolidated Stock of the Company at the rate of 2 per cent. per annum, and resolved that such dividend, and the dividend at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum on the 5 per cent. Preference Stock, 4 per cent. per annum on the 4 per cent. Preference Stock, and 4 per cent. per annum on the 4 per cent. Preference (rent charge) Stock of the Company, respectively, for the half-year ended 30th June, 1922, be paid (less income tax) on 1st September next to the proprietors who were registered at the closing of the transfer books on the 17th inst.

DUBLIN DISTILLERS' CO.—1/- per share on the £5 Ordinary shares for year ended 30th June. The dividend on the 6 per cent. Pref. for half-year to June last and a further payment of 3/6 per share (together with 6/6 a share) making a total payment for the year of 9/6 on the £5 Pref. shares, £1,932 off premises, plant, etc., and £43,600 forward, against 14/9 the previous year, and 2/6 a share on the Ord. shares, with £41,261 forward.

CONSETT IRON.—Dividend of 4 p.c., free of tax.

CONSETT SPANISH ORE.—Dividend of 1/- per share.

PREMIER INVESTMENT.—Interim dividend on the Ord. Stock of 2½ p.c. actual.

COCONUT PLANTATIONS OF PERAK.—Dividend of 2½ p.c. for the year, less tax.

AUSTRALIAN BANK OF COMMERCE.—Final yearly dividend at 7 per cent. per annum.

RAILWAY SHARE TRUST.—Interim dividend of 4 per cent. per annum, less tax, on Ord. stock.

SOUTH METROPOLITAN GAS.—Interim dividend of 5 p.c. per annum, less tax, on Ord. Stock.

HUMBER COMMERCIAL RAILWAY AND DOCK.—Interim dividend of 4 p.c. per annum, less tax, on Ord. and Guaranteed shares.

WREXHAM AND ELLESMERE RAILWAY.—Interim dividend of 3½ p.c. per annum, less tax, on Ord. Shares.

CHATHAM AND DISTRICT LIGHT RAILWAYS.—Interim dividend of 5 p.c. per annum, less tax, on Ord.

BRITISH OIL AND CAKE MILLS.—Interim dividend on the Ord. Share capital of 5 per cent., less tax, for the current year.

IMPROVED INDUSTRIAL DWELLINGS.—Dividend of 2½ p.c., free of tax, on Ord. Stock and Def. Shares, making 5 p.c. for the year.

CHELSEA ELECTRICITY SUPPLY.—Interim dividend of 8 p.c. per annum, less tax, on Ord. Shares.

EDINBURGH, DUNDEE, AND ABERDEEN INVESTMENT.—Dividend of 6 p.c., less tax, on Ord.

SMALLER SUPPLIES OF CREDIT.

EXCHANGES STEADY.

Although the position yesterday was less uncomfortable as regards loanable credit, it was pretty evident that the tax collection is appreciably diminishing supplies. As a rule, lenders reduced the charge for night money to 1½ p.c., but there were still some who clung to 2 p.c. Fixtures were going on at 1½ p.c. The charge for Stock Exchange money was reduced to 3½ p.c., which represents the last change in the Bank rate.

As a rule, the tendency of Discounts was scarcely so firm, but there was no increase in the volume of business going on. Fine three months' Bank bills were 1⅝ to 1⅞ p.c., with October Treasury bills 1⅝ p.c., and Septembers 1⅞ to 1⅝ p.c. Surprise was expressed at the low terms on which Liverpool placed £1,000,000 twelve months' bills. The average works out at £2 2s. 1½d. p.c., offers at £97 17s. 10d. getting 49 p.c. Total applications reached £5,972,000.

Bar silver was ⅛d. easier for cash, but unchanged for forward delivery, being 35d. per oz. for both.

Foreign Exchanges were not materially affected by the coming visit of M. Poincaré, but rates were steadier, and, in the case of German marks, a slight improvement was shown. These, after opening at 2,235, rallied to 2,215-2,220, but reacted to 2,225. French francs were practically unchanged at 52.95 to 53.00, and Belgian francs at 55.90 to 55.93. Italian lire were not quite so good at 96½, owing to the political situation there. Sterling was not quite so strong on New York at 4.45¾ dollars to 4.46 dollars. Austrian crowns showed no recovery at 135,000 to 145,000, despite the improved loan prospects. Norwegian kroner were dearer at 26.50, and Danish at 70.72. Polish marks remained at 24,000 to 26,000, and Dutch florins were firmer at 11.45 to 11.46. The following are closing quotations:—

LIVERPOOL, Tuesday.—TALLOW firm, and business reported in Sansuneua Barracas, South America beefs at 39/- per cwt. c.i.f.

CLYDE CRUSHED SUGAR, Tuesday.—Market continues very firm. Good demand for all kinds at full to rather dearer prices.

MISCELLANEOUS.

DUBLIN HAY AND STRAW, Tuesday.—Market of hay was again of somewhat diminished dimensions, but nevertheless bulked a fair and sufficient supply. Arrivals were mostly of 1st, 2nd, and 3rd crop hay, and choice old meadow qualities of this year's yield proved rather scarce and looked for. For choice strong hay 7/- to 7/3 and 7/6 per cwt. represented majority of sales, but, although 7/6 might be considered a general outside figure, still a few sellers of extra nice Co. Dublin 1st crop hay, it appears, obtained 6d. per cwt. more, but such transactions were certainly isolated. Good medium strong hay, 6/- to 7/-, and prime old meadow 5/9 to 6/3; other sorts, 4/9 to 5/6 per cwt. Some loads of last year's 1st and 2nd crop hay realised 11/- to 12/- per cwt. Straw nominally around 11/- per cwt.

LIVERPOOL COTTON (Closing), Tuesday.—American limited demand. Brazilian quotations reduced 18 points. East Indian unchanged. Egyptian fair demand. July 12.75d., August 12.56d., September 12.36d., October 12.23d., November 12.12d., December 12.03d. Sales, 5,000 bales. Imports, 15,546 bales. Market quiet.

MANCHESTER TRADE, Tuesday.—Cloth sellers find scarcity of effective inquiry accentuated this morning by weaker tone in futures, and, in fact, most bids under consideration are at quite an impossible

1/- to 1/6 and 1/8 per float and tray; peas, 3/6 to 4/- and 4/9 per float etc., and 32/- to 35/- per stone; York cabbage, 30/- to 45/-, 50/-, and extras, 70/- to 100/- and 120/- per load; cauliflowers, 5/6 to 6/3 and 6/6 per doz.; seconds, 3/- to 3/6; lettuce, 3d. to 6d. and 8d. per doz.; rhubarb, 2/- to 4/6 per doz. bunches; carrots, 6d. to 1/3 and 1/6 ditto; vegetable marrows, 4/- to 12/- per doz.; onions, 8d. to 1/- per bundle; white turnips, 9d. to 1/6 ditto;

Poisoned Ankle
Suffered 18 Years, but Soon Cured by Germolene, the Aseptic Skin Dressing.

Mrs. A. Buttle.

Mrs. A. Buttle, 7 Higher Kingston, Yeovil, says:—"I had suffered with bad legs for more than 18 years. There were big ulcers on both ankles and they were terribly painful. I could not do any ordinary housework for them, nor even get about properly, and althought I tried all sorts of things it was no use. The ulcers would not heal; in fact they got worse. But when I applied Germolene it was astonishing how the pain was relieved. Soon it was all gone, and from then on the ulcers healed up rapidly. In quite a short time my legs were well. I am never without Germolene in the house now, and all my family use it for cuts and burns and scratches, in fact for anything—and it never fails to heal quickly and without complications."

Germolene is matchless as a remedy for Eczema, Psoriasis, Rashes, Piles, Itching, Ulcers, Skin Eruptions, Cuts and Burns, Ringworm, Pimples, Chapped Hands, Chilblains and all cut, bruised, itching, or ulcerated surfaces.

SOOTHES AT A TOUCH!
Awarded Gold Medals and Diplomas at Four Leading International Exhibitions

Price 3/- per tin, 1/3 the smaller size. From Chemists and Stores everywhere.

ORANGE GROWING IN SOUTH AFRICA—A brochure issued by the Union Government states:—"From ten acres of land a yearly gross return of from £2,000 to £3,000 has been taken. Probably three-quarters of that was profit." And further states:—"Orange growing is one of the best paying undertakings extant. There can be no doubt that those who get in now will have seized an opportunity which does not often present itself." Mr. F. E. Kanthack, C.M.G., late Director of Irrigation for the Union, reports that the Zebediela Orange scheme of the African Realty Trust, Ltd., is "one to which I cannot take any exception whatever on engineering or horticultural grounds." The life at Zebediela is described as delightful for the officers and their families who reside in the picturesque township, situated at an altitude of 4,000 ft., overlooking the orchards. Congenial society, shooting, boating, fishing, tennis, cricket; no pioneering. Plentiful and inexpensive native labour obtainable for field and house work. Married people can live comfortably on £150 to £200 per annum. Taxation negligible. Write at once for particulars as to how an investor or settler may secure ten acres, ensuring a nett income of not less than £1,000 per annum on a capital outlay of £1,350, to African Realty Trust, Ltd. (subscribed capital £400,000), 36 D, New Broad Street, E.C. 2. 7 24
